

Thompson-Davis Vows Spoken Saturday

Ms. Annie Lois Thompson became the bride of James H. Davis in an impressive 5:30 p.m. ceremony on Saturday, February 14.

The ceremony took place at Greater Galilee Baptist Church and their vows were heard by Rev. Warren McKissick.

The bride resides at 3620 Crestridge Drive. The groom, formerly of Washington, D.C., resides at 1137 Rollingwood Drive.

Two baskets of red and white carnations flanked the altar of the church. It was accented by a display of greenery and lighted candles.

Mrs. Joyce McMillian was organist and soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her son, Staff Sgt. Ernest C. Thompson of the U. S. Marine Corps. She wore a blue and white three piece ensemble and a pale blue veil. Her bouquet was of red and white carnations.

Mrs. Thelma Mobley served as Matron of honor. She wore a peach three-piece ensemble and veil and also carried a bouquet of red and white carnations.

Little Miss Shannon Thompson was flower girl. She wore a pastel blue dress and threw flower petals from her basket.

Bennie David, brother of the groom from Washington, D.C., served as best man.

Urban Counties Committee To Meet Here

Mecklenburg County will be host to a meeting of the North Carolina Urban Counties Committee Thursday and Friday, February 19 and 20.

The meeting will begin at 1 p.m. Thursday, and all sessions will be at the Downtown East. Mrs. Elizabeth

(Liz) Hair, chairman of the Mecklenburg Board of County Commissioners is chairman of the committee and will preside at the meeting.

The committee is composed of County Commissioners from North Carolina's five counties that have a population in excess of 200,000: Forsyth, Wake, Cumberland, Guilford and Mecklenburg.

On the agenda for discussion are a number of urban county concerns: procedures for levying assessments for street and road improvements, the allocation of highway funds,

County responsibility in financing education and the property tax that is levied on inventories. The committee members will also discuss Revenue Sharing, the sales tax and taxes on whiskey, cigarettes and luxury items.

This committee was organized in 1975 in an effort to help urban counties develop solutions to their mutual problems and concerns.

Burris, Williams Win Macedonia Titles

One of the proud moments in the lives of Johnny Burris and Erika Michello Williams came late Sunday afternoon, February 15, when they were announced the winners of the annual King and Queen Contest of the Junior Missionary Department of the Macedonia Baptist Church.

There were six contestants vying for the coveted honor and each had to collect donations in an effort to raise money for the church's building fund.

Burris, who is 11 years old, reported a total of $35.20 to capture the honors as the 1976 King while the new queen, who is six years old, winning her division title with a report of $113.00.

According to Ms. Renee Patterson, president of the Junior Missionary, "all the kids worked hard and did a wonderful job." We are especially proud of them, Ms. Patterson said while reporting singing out contestants Devondia Ross, Adrienne Hyman, Erika Williams, Gerald Lenoir, Burris and Rodney Wallace.

Kenneth Parks is the junior missionary supervisor.

88 Counties To Establish Community Programs

Eighty-eight North Carolina counties have joined in a statewide effort to establish community programs for North Carolina's children in trouble.

At a meeting held last week to announce participating counties, the Technical Advisory Committee on Delinquency Prevention and Youth Services appointed subcommittees to begin work on finding funds and evaluating possible programs. According to Pitt Dickey, director of planning for the N. C. Division of Youth Services, negative responses came from only three counties - Currituck, Pasquotank and Perquimans counties. Nine counties, Dickey said, had not responded.

Judge A. Lincoln Sherk, chairman of the technical advisory committee, said "The committee is pleased with the number of county commissioners in North Carolina who have shown their concern about the state's children in trouble and are interested in considering community programs. We are encouraged now that through the coordinated efforts of both county and state, we can not only decrease the number of children in our state training schools, but can significantly reduce the number of juvenile offenses in North Carolina." Thirty-six states are now assigning greater percentages of their youthful offenders to community-based residential and non-residential programs instead of state training schools. The community programs receive both state and federal aid in funding. North Carolina is one of only six states in the nation which has no state-aided community programs for its youth at this time. Groundwork for the development of community programs in North Carolina began when the General Assembly made it illegal for children who have committed no crime (status offenders) to be sent to the state's training schools after July 1977.

For 1976 General Motors brings you The Timely Ones

Designed and engineered for a changing world.

Savings in scheduled maintenance.

Oldsmobile Omega

Thanks primarily to the GM-designed catalytic converter, the use of unleaded gas and the High Energy Ignition System, your spark plugs can last up to 22,500 miles. And there are no points and ignition condenser to replace. Ever.

In addition, GM's clean-running engines let you go up to 7,500 miles for the first oil and oil filter change interval and chassis lubrication.

A new world of cars awaits you.

Cadillac Seville

In just a few short years the automobile as we've known it has undergone an enormous transformation.

On the engineering side, GM has been in the forefront by offering such things as the catalytic converter, smaller, more economical engines and space-age electronics for ignitions, fuel injection and service diagnostics.

On the maintenance side, we've significantly lengthened recommended service intervals.

And on the selection side, we've come up with new smaller models.

So if you've been out of the new-car market for several years, stop by your Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac dealers soon.

If gas mileage is at the top of your list of reasons for buying your next car, we think GM has what you want. Take a look at the chart and you'll see what we mean.

Of course these figures are estimates. The mileage you get will vary according to the kind of driving you do, your driving habits, your car's condition and available equipment.

Buick Skyhawk

You've heard the news about GM's new mini, Chevrolet Chevette. EPA estimates of 40 mpg highway, 28 mpg city. Now take a look at some of our other small cars.
