Barber-Scotia College Holds Career Conference

The Annual Career Day Conference at Barber-Scotia College attracted over forty representatives from business, armed forces, education, industry, and graduate school. The theme of the Conference was "Which Road to Success." The representatives complimented this theme by presenting the current economic and employment picture in the respective areas.

Most of the recruiters said that the job market for the 1976 college graduate looks bleak; nevertheless, the students at Barber-Scotia were encouraged by the over all conference activities and what the job recruiters had to say.

The keynote speaker for the Conference was Dr. Frank Hale Jr., Associate Dean, the Ohio State University. Dr. Hale challenged the students to be prepared to negotiate the system. Dr. Hale warned the students not to wait until they were seniors to prepare to look for employment. He also spoke of the Black Pioneers in history who made it possible for today's Black youth to have better educational opportunities.

Planned Parenthood Clinic Expands Services

Planned Parenthood of Greater Charlotte in combination with the Neighborhood Medical Clinic, Inc. has opened a family planning service at the site of the Alexander Street Center at 910 N. Alexander Street.

The Clinic was organized to provide a wide range of health services to families residing in an area of Charlotte surrounding Alexander Street which includes Piedmont Courts and Earle Village. Enrollment is offered to all families located within the area of Charlotte bounded on the west by N. College Street, on the north by E. 22nd Street, E 24th Street, and Catawba, on the east by Louise Avenue and Hawthorne Lane and the Northwest Expressway, and on the south by East Trade Street. If there is some doubt as to whether a particular residence is included within the boundaries you should contact the Clinic for clarification.

The Clinic is staffed by two full time physicians and a team of paramedical personnel to provide health education, counseling, health maintenance services and greater continuity of care. The Clinic provides all outpatient medical care except prenatal and dental services. Included in their wide range of services are sickle cell disease and trait diagnosis and treatment, blood pressure screening, job and school physicals, venereal disease testing and treatment, as well as family planning.

Women who need birth control services can call the Clinic at 332-9046 to make an appointment or to get information.

All services at the Clinic are confidential and charges are based on a sliding scale fee.
