

Shaw Names Dr. Fields President

At its meeting on Tuesday, July 13, the Executive Committee of the Shaw University Board of Trustees designated Dr. Richard L. Fields as Acting President of the University. Dr. Fields has been charged with full responsibility for the overall management of the University.

Dr. Fields, who joined the Shaw staff recently as Executive Vice President, was formerly Director of University Planning, Management and Evaluation at North Carolina A&T State University, Greensboro, North Carolina. He has held previous administrative positions at Bennett College, as Director of Teacher Education and at Fayetteville State University, as Dean of the University.

He has had extensive experience as a teacher on the secondary and college level, and as consultant and lecturer at workshops and conference for several colleges and universities, including Tuskegee Institute and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Dr. Fields is married to the former Gladys Westray and they have three children - Richard Alan, Mark Lewis, and Tracy Antoinette.

Pizza Huts

Selects Foote,

Cone, Belding

Foote, Cone & Belding of Chicago has been selected as the national advertising agency for Pizza Hut, Inc. and its nationwide franchise restaurant system.

The agency will be responsible for the more than $6 million national account effective September 1, 1976. The Pizza Hut Advertising Committee, comprised of two company and two franchise representatives, was responsible for managing the agency screening and selection process.

More than 60 national and regional agencies were initially evaluated by Pizza Hut after the seven-year association with Noble-Dury and Associates was terminated in April. Six agencies were interviewed before the list was pared to three in late June. J. Walter Thompson (Chicago) and Tracy-Locke (Dallas) joined FCB as the final three under consideration. The three made presentations the week of July 5 based upon specific assignments from the Pizza Hut Ad Committee.

FCB, including the Chicago office, consists of 21 wholly-owned advertising agencies in 13 countries. Its 1975 billings amount was $385 million. The 1975 Chicago office accounted for $107 million.

In making the announcement, Pizza Hut's Sam Moyers, Vice President of Advertising and Market Planning and International Pizza Hut Franchise Holders Association President, Dan Heese, said, "All three finalists did an excellent job of handling the Ad Committee's assignments with originality and insight."

There are 2,381 Pizza Hut restaurants in 47 states and 11 foreign markets.

With Continental Trailways

Mrs. Elmira C. Lawrence

Ends 25 Years Of Services

Mrs. Elmira Coleman Lawrence, 60, of Tanktown Road, Matthews, N.C. worked her last day as a member of the Cleaning Department of Continental Trailways last Friday.

The mother of 5 children, grandmother of 9, and widow of the late Robert "Dutch" Lawrence says she would have worked for Continental Trailways, "off and on" for 25 years this coming September and she hates to leave.

"I'm going to miss the girls, they are all very nice - they all call me "Ma" or "Granny", says Mrs. Lawrence who worked with "8 girls and 4 men" in the cleaning department headed by Foreman D. T. Blackwelder who she says

"is the best bossman in Charlotte."

Mrs. Lawrence says failing health, "back trouble, sugar, and high blood pressure" caused her to leave and she now wants to work with children in a hospital and do missionary work.

She says she plans to spend more time in her yard working with her flowers. "I love all flowers but I like azaleas most", she said.

She doesn't plan to do much traveling, adding, "I've been to New York 5 to 6 times and to Johnston, Pa. 3 or 5 times on my bus pass", which allows her to travel free.

Retiree Lawrence came to Continental Trailways in 1953 at a salary of "50 or 75 cents an hour"; when she left last Friday she was earning $3.37 per hour.

Mrs. Lawrence's children are: Lola Lawrence, 42, of Matthews; Lula Mae Brown, 40, of Charlotte; Robert Lewis Lawrence, 38, of Charlotte; Leroy Lawrence, 35, of Johnston, Pa.; and Melvin Douglas Lawrence, 25, of Charlotte.

She is a member of Mt. Moriah Baptist Church of Matthews, pastored by Rev. J.C. Robinson, where she has been a member for 46 years and has served as President of the Missionary Circle for 10 years, Beginners Sunday School Teacher for 22 years, Vice President of the Missionary Circle for 5 years, and sung on the choir for 4 years.

Reid Family Gathers Here For Reunion

The Reid family reunion was held recently at Metropolitan Church with approximately 200 members and friends in attendance.

The affair began with out of town members arriving from as far away as Michigan. Everyone was excited and thrilled at the opportunity of seeing family and friends again.

Thomas Wolfe said, "you can never go home again; that the baby bird can never return to the nest of his fathers; that when you leave you may as well take all your memories and all your fantasies with you."

The Reids proved him wrong with the success of their reunion.

Born to the marital union of the late Jane and Charlie Reid were 14 children. Those attending the reunion were Herman, Charlie, Cora Reid Carouthers, Mattie Reid Kearns, and Viola Reid Grier with their children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Helen Price, Mrs. Lula Watson, and Mr. Olin Carouthers were the coordinators of the reunion.

The grandchildren were responsible and participated in the program which consisted initially of a welcome to family and friends by Kevin Carouthers, who was the emcee. Family and friends sang "Come Thou Almighty King".

The scripture was chosen and read by Bertram Hogue - Genesis. 17:10-18. Prayer was led by Rev. H.O. Graham, the minister of Metropolitan Presbyterian Church.

"Lift Every Voice and Sing" was in tribute to the family sung by Beverly Hogue Simmons, Karen Massey, Brigitte Carouthers, Sabrina Grier, Kevin Carouthers, Eric Watson, Perry Carouthers, John Price Jr., and Tony Watson.

Bertram Hogue and Zebra Neal sang "The Impossible Dream" after which a history of the Reid family was given by Jennie Mae Thompson. Dinner was served immediately following grace by Climmie Watson, Jr.

The reunion next year will be hosted by the Grier family.

O'Herron Wants Adequate Method Of Evaluating State Teachers

North Carolina must take any steps necessary to provide a fair and adequate method of evaluating teachers to determine their qualifications to teach in the public schools, Ed O'Herron, Democratic candidate for Governor, said.

He was commenting on news stories reporting that the State has asked a federal court to reverse its 1975 ruling that the requirement of a minimum score on the National Teacher examination for teachers certification was unconstitutional. The 1975 ruling was that the State's use of the NTE discriminated against blacks and other minorities because more blacks than whites failed to make the minimum score, 950 out of a possible 1,800. The N.C. Attorney General's office now contends that a recent Supreme Court ruling contradicted the action in the North Carolina NTE case.

"Perhaps the NTE isn't the best way to measure a teacher's qualifications", O'Herron said, "though I wonder if educators wouldn't by nature be better judges of that than courts. As long as one court has ruled against the NTE, it is imperative that the State take steps to provide a test that meets constitutional as well as educational standards."

"I am sure that the educators of North Carolina, in the colleges as well as in the public schools, can come up with a proper evaluation. Until this is done, we have no way of gauging a teacher's competence, other than in college transcripts and in interviews. The real worth of the transcript could well vary from campus to campus, and the skill of the interviewing official could vary from school system to school system. The result could be disastrous for children who might be in classrooms with inferior teachers, while better qualified teachers were still looking for jobs."

O'Herron pointed out that the State Board of Education worked out a system of teacher certification some years ago, but that the General Assembly had then reinstated the NTE cutoff score.

"I realize that development of a valid and fair evaluation could take several years," O'Herron said. "But we can begin the task now, and I will ask the 1977 General Assembly to come up with one to be used until detailed studies can be completed."

O'Herron pointed out that the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina is planning a year-long study of teacher training in all the State's institutions of higher education, including the private campuses. This study, he said, "will give us a better idea of what training is now being given, what changes should be made in this field, and what methods of evaluating prospective teachers would be best."

Sacred Heart's

Fund Raising

Tops $300,000

Fund raising at Sacred Heart College topped the $300,000 mark for the 1975-76 fiscal year. This figure is 35 percent higher than last year and 252 percent greater than fiscal year 1973-74.

The increase in external support was noted in all areas including contributions from alumni, Trustees and Visitors, corporations, foundations, and other friends. The monies were primarily designated for building renovation, scholarships for needy students, the Center for Special Education and unrestricted uses.

According to John Heiberger, vice president for Institutional Relations, the college is ahead of schedule in reaching the October goal of its half-million dollar "Commitment Campaign" being chaired by Hugh McColl, president of NCB. Among the gifts to the College is a $170,000 challenge grant from the DeRance foundation which must be matched in the next six months.

"We want everyone to know of our success in receiving external support", said Sister Michel, president of Sacred Heart, "because it is a tribute to the worth of the College, its programs, and the many people who have worked so hard; but, and I emphasize but, we cannot let up now. We must double our efforts if we are to reach our goal in terms of dollars and, most importantly, in terms of the programs they make possible."
