YWCA Announces

Registration

For Fall Term

Registration for fall term classes begins on September 11, 8:30 a.m. - 3 p.m. at Park Road and Trade Street YWCA Centers. Registration continues from September 12-15, 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. at both centers. Term begins September 20 to December 11.

New classes feature three levels of needlepoint taught by Mrs. Pat White, internationally known for her instruction and work. Mrs. White was the blue ribbon winner in the '74 American Needlepoint Guild show in Monaco and is the president of Charlotte Needlepoint Guild.

Newly Single and Assertiveness Training will be led by Gypsy Barlow, a local clinical social worker in private practice. Newly Single is an open discussion and learning program for separated or divorced women who desire to get out of the old ruts.

International Cooking class will feature preparation and tasting of foods from France, Japan, India, Spain and Hungary.

Fall Term will feature individual and family instruction in bridge, and backgammon. Jean Bridges, native of Charlotte and Certified Life Master for Bridge joins Dave Edwards, Certified Bridge Director as instructors.

Launi Hoover will teach Hula Dancing and students will dance to the mellow sounds of steel guitars and beat of native drums.

Children, teens and adults from age 3 on up can register for many swim, tennis, dance or exercise classes. Specialized swim classes include adult stroke clinic, water exercises, synchronized swimming, advance lifesaving and water safety instruction.

The YWCA is a United Way Agency.

Randolphs Say Third Family

Reunion "Was Huge Success"

By James Peeler
Post Staff Writer

Decendants of the late Eddie "Ed" Randolph and Daisy Rabb Randolph of Monticello, South Carolina held their THIRD FAMILY REUNION last Sunday at the home of James Randolph at 3116 Ross Ave in southwest Charlotte.

Approximately 103 clan members attended the one-day affair which was held in Charlotte for the first time this year. The reunion was held the two previous years in Monticello, South Carolina, in Fairfield County.

Jerry Lewis Labor Day

Telethon Begins Sunday

Eyewitness News environmental reporter Bill Bailey, and Joan Lacey, wife of news co-anchorman Brad Lacey, will emcee the activities from Charlotte's Eastland Mall during the "Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon" beginning at 9 PM Sunday, Sept. 5 until 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 6 on Channel Nine. Coverage will be live and in color from both Eastland Mall and Las Vegas. Jerry Lewis is host in Vegas, with Ed McMahon as his anchorman for the fourth consecutive year.

In addition to live cut-ins from Eastland Mall every hour on the quarter-hour (9:15, 10:15, 11:15, etc.), the coverage will include taped excerpts from activities associated with the telethon around Charlotte and the surrounding area. Among these are highlights from various "skate-a-thons" held in Charlotte, Rock Hill and Monroe; and a trout fishing marathon held in Hickory. All proceeds from these activities will be donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association and a check presented on the air.

Originating from the Hotel

Attending this year's reunion were; John Randolph, James Randolph, Eddie Randolph, Jr., Annie Randolph White, and Azelea Randolph Yarborough, the 5 children of the late Eddie and Daisy Randolph.

Also attending were a host of cousins and in-laws including: Eddie Martin, of Jenkinsville, S.C.; Mr. and Mrs. James Sutton of Columbia, S.C.; Daisy Mae Noble, of Charlotte; Rev. J. W. Moses and family of Baltimore; hostess Gussie Moses Randolph's brother; John R. Richards, Monticello. Eugene Richards, Jenkinsville, James Richards, of Monticello, S.C.; Joe Martin and wife of Monticello. Bessie Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glenn, Johnnie Lee Gladen, Delores Gladen, Eddie Martin, and Doretha Cole.

The Buffet Dinner of Turkey, Ham, Chicken, Macaroni and cheese, string beans, waldorf salad, and all the trimmings was catered by Mrs. Thelma Grier with the floral arrangements provided by S&A Flower Shop.

Family spokeswoman Gussie Moses Randolph said "everyone", including her husband's pastor, Rev. Morgan W. Tann, "had a wonderful time and we are looking forward to having it again next year in Monticello, South Carolina."

Sahara in Las Vegas, the telethon will have on hand many celebrities. Among these are Frank Sinatra, Chad Everett, Carol Burnett, Leslie Uggams, David Hartman, Vikki Carr, Lou Rawls, Patricia Neal, Totie Fields, Charo, Cher and others too numerous to mention.

This is the eleventh year that Lewis has presented this telethon to benefit victims of muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular disorders. Some 200 television stations across the country will carry the program, with Hawaii and Puerto Rico participating.

Jerry's show in 1966 inaugurated the Labor Day series, and was the first telethon in history to raise one million dollars. His 1974 telethon broke all previous records by raising $16.1 million dollars over 174 stations, but even that record was shattered last year when the 1975 telethon, carried by 195 stations, raised $18,868,499 in pledges, with 100 percent collected.

Blood Test Devised For Multiple Sclerosis

By Otto McClarrin
Special To The Post

A blood test for multiple sclerosis shows potential for early diagnosis of the baffling nerve disease, Duke University researchers have reported. There has been no fully reliable or easy test to tell if a person has multiple sclerosis (MS), or some other disease. This is because of the variety of MS symptoms and the fact that other diseases have some of the same symptoms.

The new blood test can distinguish between MS and some other neurological diseases, and can indicate MS regardless of the severity, duration and activity of the disease, according to Dr. Nelson L. Levy, Paul S. Auerbach, and Dr. Edward C. Hayes of the division of Immunology, Duke University Medical Center.

Multiple Sclerosis is a chronic debilitating disease affecting about 500,000 Americans. There is no cure for MS, nor is its cause known. It is marked by patchy destruction of the insulating sheath, myelin, around nerves. That causes a kind of short-circuiting that can bring on weakness, tremor, stiffness, vision troubles, difficulty with bladder control, and other symptoms. It follows an up and down course, with remissions or improvement followed by new attacks.

SWINE FLU VACCINATIONS
Persons considered high-risks for influenza will be vaccinated against swine flu this fall instead of this summer as previously planned, Federal health officials say. They blamed the delay on problems with vaccine production and the need for more tests.

Dr. David Sencer, director of the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, (CDC) said the high-risk program should start shortly after Labor Day, at about the same time inoculations begin for normal adults.

High-risk persons are those over 65 years old, and people of all ages with chronic diseases, such as pulmonary problems and congenital heart defects. These people run more risk of dying or suffering serious complications from influenza than the rest of the population.

Two Federal Health Advisory Committees recommended recently that the $135 million vaccination program move ahead to immunize adults against swine flu as soon as possible. But they advised delaying shots for children and young people until more studies were made.

Dr. Sencer said vaccination of the young will probably begin by late fall or early winter following studies of what type of vaccine at what doses should be used. Results of the first human studies with swine-flu vaccines said the shots appeared safe and effective for adults 24 or older.

However, side effects in children were higher than expected with the most effective vaccines. These side effects, such as mild fever and malaise, were not too serious, but researchers said there was time to develop a better vaccine program for younger persons.

Scholarships
The Senate recently approved legislation that will require medical schools, as a condition of receiving Federal aid, to channel more of their graduates into general practice. These goals relate to students in primary care training defined as family practice, general internal medicine, pediatrics, and obstetrics and gynecology. In 1977, the medical schools must ensure that at least 42 percent of their residencies are in primary care.

The bill also sets up an expanded loan program for medical and dental students that will allow government-backed loans of up to $10,000 a year.
