

Shiloh Institutional Baptist Church To Worship At Noon On Christmas Day

By Dardenia Dalton
Post Staff Writer

The chosen day that we celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ is steadily advancing. Many events have taken place or will take place during the week. Christmas, the time of rejoicing has been emphasized through worship services, banquets, parties, etc. Now what shall be done on Christmas Day, the day that is most important, the day we have set aside to worship God, to praise God, and to glorify His Holy name?

Many will busy themselves preparing dinner, opening brightly colored packages, and distributing gifts to friends and relatives. There is a lot more to it than that.

Members and friends of the Shiloh Institutional Baptist Church will busy themselves preparing their hearts and their minds for their noon worship service that is to occur on Christmas Day, December 25th in the Church Sanctuary.

All choirs of the church will join in one multitude of singers that will be addressed as "A Christmas Drama In Song." Professor W.G. Lino will serve as organist and director of the joint choir. Also serving on the program will be Mrs. J.A. White as narrator and Mrs. Novella Townsend as soloist. A sermonette will be delivered by Dr. J.A. White, Minister of the Church.

Shiloh Institutional Baptist Church looks forward to a joyous and most enjoyable worship service and fellowship.

Let's all attend. The Sunday School Department of Mayfield Memorial Baptist Church presented a Christmas party on Friday evening, December 17, at 7:30 p.m.
