CAPRICORN-AQUARIUS PARTY...C.B. Claibornes' birthday comes under the sign of Capricorn. Scheryl Gant's birthday is on the cusp of Capricorn and Aquarius. And Rudolph "Juici" Carter's birthday comes under the sign of Aquarius. The three of them got together last Saturday night and sponsored a real lively party at the home of Rudolph and Patrice Carter, 809 Lamar Avenue.

who made a late, but very welcomed appearance, rendered their services for the musical portion of this affair.

These musicians set a very mellow mood for a party that was thoroughly enjoyed by Kenny and Beverly Simmons, Katherine Green, Harriett Reid, Eleanor Pettis, Angela Douglas, Anita Lattimore, Charles and Nita Roseboro, Al and Ruby Minter, T.J. and Vicki Reddy, Pat Douglas, Vicki Torrey, Nathaniel and Helen Abraham, Carolyn Pratt, Robert Johnson, Doris Massey, Delores Richardson, Michael Connors, Vermel Jackson, Ed and Betty Strait, Donald Greaves, Susan Outing, Carrie Hamilton, Connie Struthers, Minnie Ames, and Deborah Pharr.

As I talked with one of the guests, she quipped, "I hope they can have a replay of this jam next year."

CHESS TOURNAMENT...Sunday, February 6, is the date for Leland Fuerstman's first tournament of 1977. The tournament is called the 1st Eastland Mall Quads and will be held, where else, but at Eastland Mall, located at 5471 Central Avenue.

The tournament will be broken down into 4-man sections. Registration is from 10:15 til 10:45 a.m., with play beginning at 11 a.m. The tournament is scheduled to last until 6 p.m. It is open to all United States Chess Federation members and all North Carolina Chess Association members.

I would like to say "good luck" to the 3 brothers I know that are entering the tournament. They are Dean Hart, Dave Richards and Gerald Johnson.

CAMELOT FUNCTION...Gentlemen, Ltd., a civic and social organization founded very recently, and dedicated to the belief that a unified community is a strong community, gave a get acquainted, or coming out, party last Saturday night in the club house of the Camelot Apartment complex.

Harold Parks, using his disco machine, furnished the sounds responsible for getting the party into gear and keeping it high.

Angela Williams was a little disappointed when the house lights came on indicating the end of a very groovy party. Sharing in the fun of the groove and the subsequent disappointment were Rembrandt Brown, Barbara Brown, Jackie Hughes, Thomas Casey, Vanessa Worsham, Skip Shipman, Delano Rackett, Warren and Pat Smith, Janie Fuller, Elaine Thompson, Jimmy Clinton, Claudius Claiborne, Patricia Forest, and Linda Newkirk.

The founders of the Gentlemen, Ltd. organization are Paul Kinney, William Coles, Eugene Berry, Nicholas Harvey, Harold Parks and Walter Peacock.

These young men possess the qualities necessary for a meaningful input into our growing community.

FASHION SHOW...The annual show given by the Women of Amay James Presbyterian Church was held last Sunday, January 23, at Bethlehem Center.

The theme was "The Sophisticated Moods of '77." The show didn't only have fashions for everyone, but entertainment also. There was a piano solo, a drill exhibition, a ballet dance and a soloist.

They boasted six categories, with several models in each. There were lovely ladies and children in sleep wear, young men and women in some real eye catching sports wear, school and dress wear. The peak of the show, according to Barbara Richards, director, was the cocktail and evening wear, with young ladies gliding across the stage in a vast array of styles and gorgeous colors, and the men standing very tall in their beautiful tuxedos.

PRESS BREAKFAST...Lynn Smith, of Atlantic Records, sponsored a press breakfast after Jimmy Castor's performance at the Coliseum last Saturday night.

The breakfast, given at the Holiday Inn on Independence Blvd., was a very cozy thing.

Church Leaders Meet To Combat Hunger In North Carolina

By Deborah Gates
Post Staff Writer

Representatives from the Synod of North Carolina Presbyterian Church, U.S. and the Synod of the Piedmont United Presbyterian Church, USA met at Myers Park Presbyterian Church on Saturday, January 15, at 9:30 a.m., to devise ways and means of combating hunger in the state of North Carolina. A proposal is being written with this purpose emphasized.

"The group's goal is to attack the problems of hunger in both its root causes and its consequences," said Mrs. Anna M. Hood, chairperson of the writing area.

According to Mrs. Hood, the group has decided on a long-term effort, not less than three years and the proposal, now being developed, must identify with all persons with special needs.

The group members, who are hopeful of submitting its proposal to national headquarters before April of 1977, are Rev. Robert Craghead, consultant from the Administrative Unit staff, United Presbyterian Church, USA, Charlotte, N.C.; Mrs. Henry L. Harkey, representative from the Presbyterian Council, U.S. Charlotte, N.C.; Mrs. Anna M. Hood, chairperson of writing group and secretary of N.C. State Committee on Hunger, United Presbyterian Church, USA; Rev. Eugene Randall, representative, N.C. State Committee on Hunger, United Presbyterian Church, USA; and Rev. Daniel O. Hennigan, Synod of North Carolina, Raleigh, N.C. and chairperson of the N.C. State Committee on Hunger.
