

'Dear J...'

"Hubby"

Dear J,
I've known my wife since we were seven years old. Her family is very close. Her mother had a nervous breakdown. She has fully recuperated but we chose for her to live with us for awhile. Since then my wife does absolutely "nothing" in the house. She just goes to work and comes home only when the children need her which is rare. If I go home right now my wife will be sleep or in the street. I spoke with her about it and she thinks I'm jealous. She says she's doing some of the things she enjoys and that housework is a bore. She calls me a "Male Pig" and says if I'm dissatisfied with what's happening to do it myself. I spoke with her mother who says doing this for us if her therapy. I seem to be the only one going crazy.

Hubby

Dear Hubby,
You sound nice. Enjoy these different times with your working wife. Plan a romantic candlelite dinner. The gesture may be returned. A change of pace should be exciting for

"Against A Crooked Sky" Is NBC Movie

A young boy convinces a drunken trapper to assist him in a search for his teen-age sister, who was captured by Indians, in "Against a Crooked Sky," a western drama on Channel Nine's "NBC Saturday Night at the Movies" April 23 at 8 p.m. Richard Boone and Stewart Peterson star.

When 11-year-old Sam Sutter becomes distracted by his pet calf, his sister, Charlotte, is kidnapped by Indians. After two years of searching, his father and mother dejectedly give up, believing the girl is dead.

Sam launches his own search, enlisting the aid of Russian Habbakuk, a drunken trapper. After weeks of fruitless travel, the two meet an Indian who provides vital clues. Ultimately, Sam is forced to take a test of courage required of Indian warriors.

George Benson's

In Flight

Fresh from his triumph at the Grammy awards, George Benson has received yet another accolade from the recording industry--a gold record for his current Warner Bros. album, "In Flight."

Benson, of course, previously scored with his Warner Bros. album debut, "Breezin'."

childhood-adult relationships.

"Afraid"

Dear J,
I've been married for 15 years with four children. My husband is a good provider, companion and lover. I have known him since I was a teenager. We are like sisters and brothers. However, I know for a fact that my husband has "another woman" in his life who is just as much in love with him as me. I can tell my husband digs her. I have approached him about this four year affair. He denies everything and continues to be with her. My friends say I should just leave him, and that will teach him a lesson. I'm afraid I might really lose him and I don't want too.

Afraid

Dear Afraid,
Hang on, you have more than many others including the "other woman." Sometimes affairs help marriages, and that goes for both parties. So you try it; you might like it.

Mr. Charles R.S.

Q. How important is Hair & Skin Care

Ans. Hair care is one of the most valuable asset because it is the first thing a person has to get across to an employer, friends, customers, relatives and the general public. It is bad form to have a 200.00 suit, 50.00 shoes, while needing a hair style or hair cut or a style that's not in keeping with the image or job you are trying to project. It leaves the viewer the idea that you are not a well rounded person.
