

Jimmy Smith Releases Second

Album For Mercury Records

Jimmy Smith, internationally known as the world's greatest jazz organist, announced "It's Necessary" as his second album for Mercury Records.

Recorded live at Jimmy Smith's Supper Club July 6 and 7, the album features Teddy Edwards and Harold Land on tenor saxophones in addition to other outstanding musical giants.

The legend and music of Jimmy Smith covers a couple of decades during which time he has won just about every music poll and award available—hence the title "the world's greatest jazz organist".

Smith's fame and popularity was further heightened over the years with his outstanding recordings of "The Sermon," "Walk On The Wild Side," "Organ Grinders Swing," "Respect," and so many more that made him one of the top selling album artists, in addition to his popularizing the Hammond electric organ as a musical voice of authority.

WBTV To Air "Flying Sorcerer"

"Flying Sorcerer," a film from England that recounts the adventures of a young boy and his uncle as they travel to a different century via a time machine, will be rebroadcast Saturday, July 9 at 1 p.m. on "The CBS Children's Film Festival" on WBTV, Channel 3.

The script by Leo Maguire and Harry Booth is based on an original story by Hazel Swift. It begins in the 20-century laboratory of Uncle Charlie, whose secret and imperfect invention, a time machine, is accidentally activated and transports nephew David back into the Middle Ages.

Outside a medieval castle, David meets its Lady Eleanor, whose father is off on the Crusades, and her slightly bumbling sorcerer, named Astrolabe, who are being terrorized by Dormantis, the local fire-breathing dragon. David and his new "old" friends tumble between the two centuries, pursued by Dormantis, before their lives are straightened out.

Michele Wiley Feels

So At Home Singing

She's easy on the eyes, tall, shapely and attractive. She's Michelle Wiley, the newest singing sensation now recording for 20th Century Records.

What's more, she really captures your attention when she coos "I don't usually take off my shoes and stockings in a guy's apartment," the opening phrase of her latest single release for the west coast based label that's entitled, "I Feel So At Home Here."

Contrary to what you might think after hearing the opening lines of her up and coming hit single, the song is a very sensitive and warm ballad of a young lady expressing just how comfortable and at home she feels with the fellow she cares for. It took the genius of veteran producer and songwriter, Ed Townsend, to bring it all together—including the discovery of Michelle Wiley.

By standards of the recording industry, Michelle is a new comer, but based on the growing popularity of her current recording, she'll soon become one of the more popular female recording stars riding on the crest of a hit record.
