TELLING IT LIKE IT IS......

A good way to get rid of unwanted guests is to turn off the air conditioner.

Warren Reynolds, former basketball coach at North Carolina A&T State University, has taken a shot at the university's administration. In doing so, Reynolds has charged the school's top officials "with lack of knowledge as to what it takes to run a big-time basketball program."

Warren has taken an assistant coaching position at Liberty Baptist College. His team posted a 3-23 season last campaign.

Wonder if running back Chuck Foreman of the Minnesota Vikings will wait until the pre-season conditioning period is over before signing with the Vikings. Foreman, who has said he will not play football this season unless he's paid more than the $125,000 he's now receiving, should remember that O. J. Simpson didn't play well last season after holding out through the pre-season training period.

Look for Detroit to trade guard Kevin Porter before the new basketball season gets underway.

"Marvelous" Marvin Webster, the celebrated basketball star with the Denver Nuggetts, has a basketball camp underway for girls 17-22 at Guilford College. The second session of Webster's Mid-Eastern Basketball Camp will be held the week of July 17. Bob McAdoo will assist with the instructions.

Remember Sinclair Colbert, the 6-10, 215-pound giant who didn't live up to expectation as a basketball player with North Carolina A&T State University? Sinclair has made the switch from ball handler to money handler. He's now doing well as a banker with Wachovia.

Keep an eye on Charley Jones, hot hitter with the Kings Mountain A's of the Triple County Semi-Pro Baseball League. Jones went 3-for-4, including a home run last Saturday and followed with another big day on Sunday, getting 4-for-5, including a home run, triple and two doubles.

Did you notice that Willie McCovey set a new national Baseball League record for grand slam homeruns when he hit one against the Cincinnati Reds last week? Willie now owns 17. The old mark of 16 was held by Henry Aaron.

The Raleigh OIC will sponsor its second Amateur Golf Tournament August 13-14. If you'd like to enter the fund-raising event, contact Peter Stanford at 919-834-558.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are not only the best team in baseball at the moment, they are also widely-known as the biggest eaters in the game.

Sudden thought - Is there a better looking man or a man in better health than Jack Martin, the foxy old gentleman who gained considerable fame as the best football coach in football for more than 30 years of services at West Charlotte and Highland High of Gastonia. Jack still plays golf with the best.

John Love, the Observer's circulation expert who is a keen student of the game of golf, informs us that the Green Turf's 7th Annual Golf Open Tournament will be held (July 16-17) at Whittle Springs Golf Course in Asheville, N.C.

According to John, there will be six flights for amateurs with trophies and merchandise to be awarded in each flight. The entrees fees will be $32 for amateurs and $50 for you guys who call yourselves "pros."

■Going Home' to Your Roots

LeVar "Kunta Kinte" Burton with his arms around his mother and his fiancee.

Never have so many Americans been interested in going "home," thanks largely to Alex Haley's world-famous search for his ancestral roots.

Haley's best-selling book and record-breaking TV novie, "Roots," inspired countless thousands to set off on their own search. And this summer, Trailways will help out millions more to literally "go home" with a unique offer—a one-way $75 "Going Home Special" fare to any point in the continental United States. Further stressing the family aspects of its offer, all children under five will ride free.

Honoring the Haley work as the inspiration for this summer special, Trailways is featuring LeVar "Kunta Kinte" Burton, who played the young hero of "Roots" in the ABC-TV show, in a dramatic new commercial. To film it, Burton actually returned home to Los Angeles, picnicking, reminiscing and playing games with twenty-three friends and relatives, many of whom he had not seen in years. A TV crew filmed the reunion for television.

"Going Home" travelers may purchase the special $75 tickets anytime from June 1st through September 15th, and may use them from June 1st through September 30th.

In addition, Trailways passengers will receive a copy of the company's specially prepared "Trace Your Routes" folder which features a colorful genealogical tree and guidelines on tracing one's roots that was designed by Wilbur Helmbold, one of the nation's leading genealogists.
All in all, "Going Home" will be paying special dividends this summer.
