

What's happening!

GALA RECEPTION... 'Tis great indeed to be recognized for accomplishments, whether big or small. However, most of us go through life merely touching the hem of notable accomplishments. Some of us though, are able, for one reason or another, to rise above the hem and embrace the full bodiment of accomplishments drifting gown.

CLIFF JOHNSON is a good example of someone with a firm embrace on recognizable accomplishments. The most recent accomplishment was his appointment to Resident Superior Court Judge of the 26th Judicial District.

This judicial appointment was characterized by many publicized events that really warmed our new Superior Court Judge. But the warmest reception was given by his brothers of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, at their frat house on Statesville Avenue. Thursday evening, December 1, the frat house was filled with many dignitaries, friends and relatives honoring Judge Cliff Johnson, born CLIFTON E. JOHNSON in Williamston, N.C., 36 years ago.

Included among the guests were Attorney Edmund Johnson, Attorney Marshall McCallum, Alvin London, Bernard Johnson, Attorney Bill Walker, Attorney David Erdman, Attorney Julius Chambers, Attorney Lynwood Foust, Theresa Cofferialia, Carrie Graves, Attorney Marnite Shuford, Dean Hamrick - President of the Bar Association of the 26th District, former Mayor John Belk and wife Claudia, Attorney Kark Adkins, Wiley Williams, Phyllis Lynch, Joe and Minnie Allison, Max Blackburn, Clerk of Superior Ct., Attorney Calvin Brown, Odell Robinson - Basileus of the Pi Phi Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Attorney Charles Jones, Oliver Freeman, Robert Walton-County Commissioners, Attorney Charles Bell, Pat Hall, Charles Dannelly - City Councilman, and Marshall Smith - President of the North Carolina Association of Educators.

Keys to the city were given to special guests, Cliff's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Johnson; his uncle and aunt whom he lived with while in school, Mr. and Mrs. John Mason; and last but not least his lovely wife Joyce.

Special recognition is due to Omega Brothers Jack Martin, Walter G. Byers and James Dixon for the excellent job they did in catering to the needs of the many guest.

Congratulations JUDGE CLIFTON EARLE JOHNSON from the entire Charlotte Post family.

DISCO TIME... Many people crowded into the National Guard Armory recently for a dazzling disco dance, sponsored by WEST CHARLOTTE HIGH SCHOOL'S CLASS OF 1958.

The young were wide open and the old were rejuvenated as they boogied together from 10 p.m. til 2 a.m. at this holiday disco dance.

Carolyn Anthony, Hazel Freeman, Ambrose Goines, Barbara Foster, Betty Foster, James Stewart, Joyce Corbett, Mildred Ray, Elizabeth Lovell, Charles Alexander, Edna Williams and Eurania Young were the class members responsible for this highly successful frenzy.

PRE-CHRISTMAS GATHERINGS... MR. AND MRS. WILLIE LEAMAN of 827 McARTHUR AVENUE used their lovely home, to host their family's annual Christmas gift exchange festivities.

The pre-Christmas exchange is done to give the families an opportunity to be flexible on Christmas Day.

Plenty of holiday food was served, and a lot of fun was had by Mr. and Mrs. Willis Rickett, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Reeves, Robert J. Reeves, Thelma Harris, William Cathey, Ashley Fullwyle, and Mary Bradshaw.

DISAPPOINTING TIMES... Richmond is a city in the heart of Virginia where for the past two years the Gold Bowl has been played. This post-season football game is played between the MEAC and CIAA champions.

Many people traveled the long distance last Saturday to see if Winston-Salem could knock off the perennial champions from Orangeburg, South Carolina. Unfortunately the Bulldogs of South Carolina State College had other plans and Klydette Gibbs, Frazier Lowery, John Cunningham, James Davis, Londell McClary, Kate Harper, and John McGill had to come back a little less fulfilled because everything other than the game was terrific.

Right here in our own back yard many University of North Carolina at Charlotte fans left the Coliseum last Monday night with the same feeling of unfulfillment. Their disappointment resulted from UNCC's loss to Appalachian State University in a basketball game that was witnessed by more than 7,000 fans.

How about it people? Was their anything terrific about Monday night?

Miss Dorinda Kay Phillips Marries William R. McClure

Dorinda Kay Phillips became the bride of William Rodney McClure at 3 p.m. December 3 in the Weeping Willow AME Zion Church, with the pastor, Rev. Wardell Henderson, officiating.

Mrs. McClure is the daughter of Mrs. Rachel Phillips of 3406 Marvin Road and her guardians are Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Phillips of 526 Billingsley Road. The parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClure of 6236 Rockwell Blvd.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Jethro Phillips, wore a long white gown with a square neck and empire waist. The neckline, sleeves and hem of the gown were edged with venice lace. She wore a mantilla trimmed with venice lace and seed pearls and carried a bible topped with two white mums tied with long white streamers.

Matrons of honor were Mrs. Angela Kirkpatrick, a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Cheryl Hunter the groom's sister. They both wore burgundy gowns with sheer capes to match and carried pink mums with green ribbons.

Janet Phillips, Jennifer Phillips, and Wanda McClure were bridesmaids and wore emerald green dresses with matching sheer capes.

The flower girl, Vonetta McClure, wore a white velvet gown and carried pink mums with green ribbons.

The groom's brother, Donald Wallace, was best man and Navy Davis, Jr., Walter Kirkpatrick, Donald Williams, Larry Black, Tommie White and Willie Henry, Sr. were ushers.

The ring bearer was Willie Lee Henry, Jr.

The mother of the bride was
