Christmas Spirit

By Dianne Simpson
Post Staff Writer
The sorors of the Charlotte Alumnae Chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta, Inc., as well as the sorors of Johnson C. Smith University are actively involved in spreading Christmas cheer during this holiday season.

On last Monday night, a group of Delta Sorors shared their talents in arts and crafts at a workshop, conducted by Soror Jacquelyn Sanders, for the 20 residents of unwed mothers at the Florence Crittendon Home.

On the same night, the other group of Delta sorors along with the Delta Ensemble held Christmas Vespers with the residents of Aery's Rest Home. A new version of the original Christmas story was presented along with the singing of numerous Christmas carols. Residents were then presented by the sorors potted plants and corsages.

These things along with other activities such as the sponsoring of canned meat items at the Greenville Neighborhood Center for the Mountain of Food Effort sponsored by WGIV are just a few of the many blessing things that the Delta Sigma Theta Sorors are doing to make sure that many people indeed have a very Merry Christmas.

Prenatal Care

Babies weighing 4 lbs. 6 oz. or less are the highest risk of death or life-long damage, reports The National Foundation-March of Dimes. The volunteer health agency urges pregnant women to receive early, prenatal care. Those women who have early, regular prenatal care are less likely to have a low-birth weight baby.
