Norman Adams Program Counselor Adams Spearheads

Organizational

Efforts

Norman Adams formerly of Newark, N.J., now residing in Charlotte, will spearhead community organizational efforts specifically designed for black women interested in community organization. The organization underway will be called "Black Women in Action." The major thrust of the organization centers around providing workshop seminars focusing on daily living and coping skills. Various training seminars will include positive parenting, marriage, divorce, credit buying, religion in contemporary society, job preparation, family planning, death and a host of social concerns. Mr. Adams currently is employed as a Program Counselor with the Charlotte Drug Education Center. He is a native of North Wilkesboro, and holds a degree in Sociology from Jersey City State College in Jersey City, N.J. Mr. Adams also attended Boston University in Boston, Massachusetts, specializing in human relations; and Columbia University in New York City, studying education and career guidance. He is a member of the Black Political Caucus, NAACP Education Committee and Friendship Baptist Church. Women organizations or individual females interested in the projected Black Women in Action may reach Mr. Adams from 9 to 5 p.m. at 374-3211.

Hughes Wins

Century III

Scholarship

J. Carlton Hughes, a senior at West Charlotte High School is one of two state winners in the Century III Leaders Scholarship competition sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) and Shell Oil Company. He was selected from among hundreds of applicants and will receive a $1,000 scholarship. State winners were selected on the basis of an essay, a current events test and an interview by a state committee. Next month, he will compete nationally at a conference in Williamsburg, Va. The conference includes seminars and speeches on social and education issues and leadership skills. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Hughes. His father is principal of Lincoln Heights Elementary School.
