Have you been traveling in the vicinity of Johnson C. Smith University and saw posters and signs illustrating productions by the Green Spirit Enterprise and wondered what this group is all about?

Well, your curiosity days are all over.

The Green Spirit Enterprise is not a new dance or singing group enroute for Broadway productions, but a group comprised of six intelligent young JCSU males who see this tremendous need to want to become a part of the business world. Unlike businesses which are based on the theorized "Money making-money keeping-money growing" processes, the Green Spirit Enterprise is based on the "Fund-raising-funds distribution-business growing" concept.

Members of the Enterprise are juniors Sherwood Channell (Commun.), and Alvin Stone (Pol. Sci.). The senior members are Ronnie McCray (Sociology), Curtis Hallums (Bus.), Willie McMahan (Sociology) and Larry Kelly (Commun.).

The reason for the organization of this group, according to Channell, "was a drastic need to break the barrier that exists in communications and involvement between the student body and the University, and the University and the community." Channell pointed out that too often many students on most of the college campuses tend to waste valuable time and money by using both unwisely. "While using valuable time to just sit around and not do anything, or invest it in those needless materialistic items, a person could do something that would benefit himself, as well as others," Channell stated.

"Our main purpose as a group," Channell continued, "is to provide fund raising drives in the forms of discos, fashion and talent shows, and game tournaments such as

According to Channell, who acts in the advertisement area for the Enterprise, this group is a non-profit organization. All monies obtained through the drive go to benefit the causes at that particular time or invested to help promote others that may present themselves in the future. So far this group has sponsored discos of which the funds obtained went to benefit such well known organizations and groups such as the United Negro College Fund and the case of The Wilmington Ten. They have also sponsored events for a few of the campus fraternities and sororities.

Channell urges that any group interested, campus as well as community, should contact any member of the Green Spirit Enterprise if in need of any type of assistance for a fund raising project. He also commented that more college students should try to "be active by getting involved and doing something that is worthwhile. It pays off in the end."

WBTV To Spotlight Willie Mays

The subject is baseball - with a look at retired superstar Willie Mays, and a visit to the first ball game of the Charlotte Oriole season in "New Ball Game For Willie Mays: New Season for Orioles." Thursday, April 13th at 9 on WBTV Channel 3.

ghetto children. Klugman also brings back some memorable moments in Willie's career, such as his back-to-the-plate catch off the bat of Vic Wertz in the old Polo Grounds in the first game of the 1954 World Series, and the pinch-hit off Rollie Fingers that won an extra-inning World Series game for the Mets in 1973. Some of the guests on the show are Hank Aaron, Tom Seaver, John Brodie, Flip Wilson, Bill Cosby, Tony Randall and Charles Schulz.

"Harlan County, USA" Saturday

The Academy Award winning film, "Harlan County, U.S.A.," will play in Charlotte on Saturday, April 15, at the Trade Street YWCA, 418 East Trade Street. The film will begin at 7 p.m. Following the film, Bessie Lou Cornett, who appears in the film will speak about the current situation in the coal fields.

The film documents a coal miner's strike against a Duke Power-owned mine at Brookside, Kentucky. Ms. Cornett is treasurer of the United Mine Workers Women's Club of Harlan County, an organization of miners' wives and widows that were active both in the 1974 Brookside strike and in the recent coal strike.

Film director Barbara Kopple lived with the striking miners and their families for two years while making the film.

Interspersed with what's happening with Willie, WBTV's mobile unit will be transmitting live updates from the Charlotte Oriole's opening game of the season. Sports-caster Bob Taylor will be at Crockett Park to share with us all the excitement as the Orioles meet the Savannah Braves - and baseball season begins.
