

What's happening!

VIP FUN...The VIP Lounge on Beatties Ford Road is rapidly becoming one of the big happening places on the westside. The very friendly Darryl Taylor, who happens to be the proprietor of this night spot, has used his amicable mannerisms plus some innovative ideas to launch his establishment into the middle of the night lights of the city.

Recently Darryl hosted a dynamite party for his daughter Melinda, at the VIP. Melinda, a ninth grader at Ranson Jr. High said, "It was the best party she has had," and she's had seven big parties. The music flowed continuously while the young people danced, played games and enjoyed refreshments.

Among the guests at this anniversary event were Reesha Brown, Orlando Liles, Sue McCain, Aaron Goines, Lorie Conway, Paul Hall, James Mitchell, Pam Pate, Andre Carr, Jeff Hardy, Denise Bolton, Scottie Williams, Chris Cook, Julian Cloud, Joe Hill, Everett Gladney, Mack Walls, Candy Ellison, Dusty Boyd, Loretta Williams, William McPherson, Cornell Steele, Carl Baxter, Bobby Glenn, Bobby Byrd, Michelle Stitt, Paula Stitt, Bobby Foust, Theodore Wilson, Darryl Broom, David Leeper, Karen Cloud, Thomas Whitney, Tanya Blakeney, Melinda Harper, Elliot Ross, Sandra Hill and Bridgett Carruthers.

SIXTY SEVEN TEA...The VIP was used to host another fun-filled affair. The 1967 graduating class of West Charlotte Senior High School sponsored a very successful Tea last Sunday, April 2, from 4 until 10 p.m.

Many class members and friends enjoyed the gathering tremendously. Among them were Edna Harris, William Simmons, Odell Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Massey, Frontis Gilliam, Early Vaughters, Titus Ivory, Helen Hairston, Delores Newland, Diane Wingard, Gwendolyn Stowe, Gwen Davis, Carolyn Morris, Diane Wallace, Gwen Carroway, Winnifred McCullough, Linda Ferguson, Grace Robinson, Judy Holt, Patricia Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Barry McDowell, Anita Hudson, Shirley McKay and Janet Ferguson.

CORONATION EXCITEMENT...Miss Kappa Alpha Psi for 1978 was crowned in a very royal ceremony last Saturday night in the John Paul Lucas Room of the Cone University Center on the campus of UNC-Charlotte. Sharon Harris, a very beautiful junior from Charlotte, was crowned by Debra Fisher, last year's queen.

The Queen's court was comprised of the elegant, Terri Hemphill - Miss Cream, Vivian Norris - Miss Delta, Karen McDaniels - Miss Nu, Canithia Jones - Miss Pi, Arlene Kinch - Miss Crimson, Kay Smith - Miss Phi, and Sharon Byrum - Miss Zeta. These beauties were escorted by; Al Pearce, Mike Farrar, Ron Roseboro, Whitley Brown, Les Richardson, Chad Kinch and Kevin King.

Some of the people attending this fanciful affair were Gene and Gloria Bolden, Kenny Simmons, James Cuthbertson, Polly Manning, Dee Cuthbertson, Kay Kagle, Jim Brown, Sandra Reid, Haywood Anderson, Vikki Purcell, Bobby Flowers, Thurgood Flowers, Mike Kemp, Terri Hall, Jerry Winston, Everett Bass, Johnny Herndon, Pam Williams, Sandra Harriston, Erdman Bryant, Henry Cuthbertson, Donna Edman and Ted Stewart.

TEA AND AWARDS GATHERING...The Par Buster's Club born out of Griertown some 10 years ago has grown into a major organization in the Big Town.

Trying to bust par on the golf course is an exercise in futility for some of the 29 members. However, the overall production of this group is very noteworthy. They sponsor 3 golf tournaments a year. One in April and one in June at the Sunset Hills Golf Course, and one in August at Crystal Springs. These events attract more and more golf enthusiasts each year.

Last weekend the Par Busters held their first tournament of 1978 and it was garnered with great success.

After the two grueling days in the wind and sun, the golfers along with their friends and wives gathered at the Par Buster's Club house on South Summit Ave. to sit, sip, chat and chew.

Some of the people involved in this pleasantry were Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cauthen, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Wallace, Jackie Pressley, Verta Witherspoon, Janie Price, Carolyn Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. John Love, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boulware, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hoey, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Teeter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gilliam, John Granger, Al Duncan, Vernard Thompson, John Crawford, Raymond Grier, James Moore, Melvin Jackson, James Black, Olin Grier, Ed Taylor, T.J. Green, James Sizer, John Crowell, Hazel Freeman, Robert Hubbard, Willie Boulware, Bubba Withers, Laura Jackson, Jenny Bynum, Reggie Sellers, Robert Plummer, Steve and Shelly Lawrence, Robert Sanders and Frank Liston.

Top Hatters Social Club

Very Active In The Area

By Chase Vance
Post Staff Writer

The Top Hatters Social Club is a very active club in the Charlotte area.

The club has been in operation for thirty years and one of its big goals this year is to hold outings and picnics for various neighborhoods during the summer.

In addition, the club plans to have a trip in August for members to possibly Virginia Beach, Virginia to enjoy the sun, fun and excitement of the exquisite resort city on the beautiful blue watered coast of the Atlantic Ocean.

Founded in 1948 by John Lester Smith, the club has refined most of its 13 original members.

Recently a woman was inducted into the club. She is Louise (Cookie) Stinson, who served as the mistress of ceremony during the recent 30th anniversary Dance in March at the Park Center.

"This club is very fortunate by having most of their original members," said John Lester Smith, spokesman for the group. "In 1976, we became the first male social club to admit a female member. She serves in the capacity of official hostess and mistress of ceremony for all of the club occasions.

The club colors are blue and gold which are accented with a white rose. "Star Dust" is the theme song and the motto is "Strive to Reach the Top."

Teresa also enjoys sewing and makes many of her own clothes. She says she sews for pleasure as well as to save money. She likes swimming and watching basketball and football and listening to jazz.

A member of the First Baptist Church, Teresa has been active in the church NAACP Chapter. Rev. Paul W. Drummond is pastor.

This pretty Libra told us she reads astrology columns and books but doesn't "really believe" in them. "People are going to be the way they are, no matter which sign they're born under," she said. "Astrology just makes a good conversation piece sometimes."

Apparently, this young woman has a lot of things on her shoulders and should achieve whatever she aspires to. We, at the POST, wish her luck.

Hodges To Host Breakfast

Luther Hodges, Jr., a Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate will be in Charlotte Friday, April 7, to share views with the women of the city.

Mr. Hodges will host a breakfast Friday morning at the Red Carpet Inn on East Morehead St. at 7:30 - 9:30 a.m. Women active in Charlotte's civic, political, cultural and academic communities have been invited to meet Mr. Hodges and share their views with him.

All women are invited to attend. Anyone interested in attending is asked to call Mr. Hodges' local campaign headquarters at 333-3727.

Terminal Cancer Patients

Improve With Vitamin C

By Otto McClarrin
Special To The Post

Nobel prize winner Dr. Linus Pauling says a five-year study of 1,100 terminal cancer patients "clearly demonstrates" that high doses of Vitamin C significantly increased their survival spans and improved the quality of their lives.

On the average, he says, "100 hopelessly terminal patients given Vitamin C lived more than four times longer than 1,100 equally terminal patients who were not given the vitamin."

Dr. Pauling stated further, "Most of those who got Vitamin C felt better, their appetites returned and they were taken off of morphine and heroin, many of them went back to work."

Despite "the fact of those benefits," organized medicine in general has chosen to ignore the study, Pauling stated.

Dr. Pauling, winner of the Nobel prize for chemistry in 1954 and the Nobel Peace Prize in 1962, is the author of the best-selling book, "Vitamin C and the Common Cold." In it, he maintains that the vitamin can prevent colds and influenza if taken in large enough amounts.

The cancer study was conducted at Vale of Leven District General Hospital at Loch Lomondside, Scotland. Doctors there began the study in November, 1971, and continued it through August 10, 1976, Pauling reported.

He and one of the physicians there, Dr. Ewan Cameron, carefully assembled the results and co-authored a scientific paper on it.

Specifically, the study demonstrated that terminal cancer patients who were given 10 or more grams - up to 60 grams - a day survived for an average of 210 days after the treatment started.

The control group, the 1,000 patients who were not given the vitamin, survived on the average "only 50 days," Pauling said. Patients who got Vitamin C not only lived longer, the quality of life in their last months was greatly improved, he said.

"Most no longer needed pain-killing drugs," he added. "They were able to eat and sleep well once again. And many went back to work."

"Ten percent of the patients who were given Vitamin C seem to be 'cured' he added. "They no longer show symptoms of cancer."
