

Mecklenburg County Receives $327,076 In Federal Funds For Social Services

County Manager Glenn C. Blaisdell announced last week that Mecklenburg County has received $327,076 in federal funds to be used in support of Social Services programs. These funds were awarded under Public Law 95-216, Title

IV-A, Section 401 of the Social Security Act titled "Fiscal Relief for states and Political Subdivisions with Respect to Cost of Welfare Programs." This legislation was enacted in response to meetings called by the National Association of

Counties (NACo) in Washington last September. Mecklenburg representatives at the meetings were County Commissioner Elisabeth G. "Liz" Hair, Ann D. Thomas, Chairman of the Mecklenburg County Social Services Board, and Edwin H. Chapin, Director of the Department of Social Services.

The purpose of the NACo meetings was to call for immediate and significant fiscal relief to local governments, specifically County government. Funds awarded under this legislation come through the State, with the stipulation that the State pay the entire amount to Counties. North Carolina has received $3,480,000, and allocation to the Counties is based on the amount of direct recipient payments for the period October 1, 1977, to March 31, 1978, in each County, versus the total amount of statewide recipient payments. (For example, if a County spent 1 percent of the total amount of Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) payments in the State during this period, that County would receive 1 percent of the $3,480,000.

New NAACP

Official To

Assume Duties

Richard E. Barber, a manpower management specialist from Pittsburgh, Pa., will assume his post this week as the NAACP's new Deputy Executive Director.

Benjamin L. Hooks, the organization's Executive Director, announced the appointment at the Association's recent National Leadership Summit Conference in Chicago. He said Mr. Barber's "strong personal desire to improve the living conditions of the poor and the downtrodden, and his well-earned reputation as a sincere and dedicated managerial leader," were the outstanding traits which led to his selection.

Richard "Dick" Barber is the son of former sharecroppers in Trenton, North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. John Barber. He attended North Carolina A & T University, where he graduated with a B.S. degree in physics. He later earned an M.S. degree in Systems Management at the University of Southern California, with additional work at the University of Pittsburgh.

In 1969 Barber left a promising career with Westinghouse Electric to become Deputy Director of the Opportunities Industrialization Centers (OIC) in Pittsburgh. In July of 1970 he cofounded Urban Talent Development, Inc.—a management development and business orientation center. In what has been described as "a classic story in manpower and management development success," Urban Talent Development trained the unemployed, the underemployed, ex-offenders and the forgotten, and placed over one thousand of them in meaningful jobs. In 1974 the organization was cited in the Congressional Record as one of the most effective manpower development centers in the country.

Another outstanding tribute to Dick Barber's talents is Pittsburgh's New World National Bank. The state's only Black-owned full service commercial bank was created and organized under the dynamic leadership of Board chairman, Barber, and opened its doors for business on March 17, 1975.

Unlike most business executives who never find time to become involved in community activities, Barber is an active board member of the Pittsburgh NAACP, the YMCA, the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, and a Deacon and Trustee of Pittsburgh Central Baptist Church.

In addition, he was chosen as one of the "Outstanding Young Men in America" in 1970; one of the ten Outstanding Young Men in America in 1975 by the U.S. Jaycees; a recipient of the George Washington Freedom Medal in 1963 and 1964; a recipient of the North Carolina A & T State University National Alumni Association Achievement Award in 1970; and the Robert L. Vann Memorial Award from the Pittsburgh Courier in 1975.
