Your Ideas Will Be Used To Make Laws

Ideas submitted to the Governor from 4,155 Mecklenburg County citizens will be used to make state law, budgets and policy.

This number of citizens responded to the "North Carolina Tomorrow" survey conducted last fall by the State Goals and Policy Board and the Governor's Office of Citizen Affairs. Over 100,000 responses were received statewide, according to a statement from the Governor's office.

Problems identified in the survey will be discussed in a series of public meetings next month. The Governor's office said major problems were more and better jobs, welfare, health care, child development, the elderly and government.

Also, a balanced growth policy reflecting citizen's wishes to maintain small-town lifestyles and protect the environment will be discussed, said the statement.

Since the survey, proposals for dealing with problems will be discussed. Citizens will be asked to tell the policy board whether state recommendations are acceptable, said the statement.

Four hearings will be held as follows: Monday, July 10, at Fayetteville Technical Institute Auditorium; Thursday, July 13, at T. Austin Finch Auditorium, Thomasville; Monday, July 17, at Martin County Auditorium on the campus of Williamston High School; and Wednesday, July 19 at Tuscola High School in Haywood County. All meetings are at 7:30 p.m.

Illustrious Potentate Bill F. Lowe of Ramese Temple No. 51 of the R.E.A.O.N.M. Shrine (PHA) is shown presenting Ms. Gayle Harris a scholarship for $1,000. Ms. Harris, a recent graduate of West Charlotte High School, also participated in the Talent and Scholarship pageant of High Point, N.C. as Miss Ramese Temple No. 51. She placed in 4th place.
