Willie J. Stratford
...Faces new challenge
Stratford Named

Public Relations Officer

by Sherleen McKoy
Post Staff Writer

Willie J. Stratford has been appointed Manager of Retail Sales at Charlotte, as Public Relations Officer for the Charlotte Council of Federal Agencies, as well as the Carolina District, U.S. Postal Service. Stratford said Monday that his main focus is to develop a public relations program that will "portray a positive image of postal services." "The program will include external and internal activities," he continued, "and we will be involved in the community whenever we can."

The new program will also stress tours of the facilities and invite groups in for meetings. The staff will be involved in community type activities so they may contribute to making the Carolinas a "better place to exist."

"We will also be involved with the print and electronic media on a truthful basis," Stratford said, "so that we can freely and openly discuss postal business."

He concluded that they just wanted to be good corporate citizens in North and South Carolina—"the kind of image that we need."

Each Sectional Center will appoint a Public Relations Representative who will also incorporate these points into their operations.

A native Charlottean, Stratford is the son of one living parent, Rosa R. Stratford. He has one son Willie Stratford, Jr., who is the founder of E.J. Jay Group and Co., a black acting group and one daughter Pi Denise, who is a stewardess for United Airlines.

Wiley, Holley,

Blue Enjoy Trip

To California

Eva Wiley, Carnell Holley and Joshua Blue made a very exciting vacation trip to Los Angeles, California, according to Mrs. Wiley.

Mary Rhodes, niece of Joshua Blue, fully entertained the group the entire week of August 7-12.

Every morning Mrs. Rhodes took the group on a daily tour. They went to see two baseball games at the Los Angeles Stadium for a starter. The group toured the Queen Mary at Long Beach, CBS Studios, Hollywood and Beverly Hills and were carried on a cross section of other neighborhoods and the Wax Museum.

On the fourth day, the group joined other Charlotteans on a tour to Tijuana, Mexico. The guide pointed out high points of interest and history on San Diego and its dangerous airport, San Clemente and the luxury fence around the Nixon property and San Juan Capistrano where the group toured the Mission House. They enjoyed a delicious lunch at the Sid Caesar Hotel before embarking on a shopping trip.

The weary group returned to Los Angeles for another day of wrapping up last minute spots like the homes of Danny Thomas and Diana Ross where motion pictures were still being made.

The chartered flight returned to Charlotte with a happy group of travelers.

Commissioner Ingram
John Ingram, Democratic nominee for U.S. Senate will be campaigning in Charlotte on Friday, September 22.

Ingram is scheduled to attend a breakfast with local businessmen at 7:30 a.m. at the Quality Inn, S. McDowell Street.
