

"Captain America" To Be Rebroadcast January 19

Steve Rogers, an athletic young ex-Marine, becomes crime-fighter Captain America—as his father had, years earlier—and, augmented by a secret super-steroid, pursues an arch-criminal who plans to detonate Phoenix with a neutron bomb, on "Captain America," a special starring Reb Brown, to be broadcast Friday, January 19 at 8:00 PM on WBTV, Channel 3.

Also starring are Len Birman and Heather Menzies. Guest stars are Lance LeGault, Frank Marth, Robin Mattson and Joseph Ruskin, with special guest star Steve Forrest.

"Captain America" is based on the Marvel Comics Group character.

Steve Rogers, enjoying his freedom from military routine, is preparing for a leisurely cross-country sketching trip when he is approached by Dr. Simon Mills (Birman), a Federal investigator, and his assistant, Dr. Wendy Day (Miss Menzies). They warn Steve that he is a marked man: certain underworld figures have a "contract" out to kill him, as they had his father.

During World War II, Steve's father, then the Government's top crimefighter, who was dubbed "Captain America" by the underworld, developed a super-steroid called FLAG ("full latent ability gain"), which greatly increased one's physical and mental powers. Now, according to Simon, those criminals wanted to nail Steve in his tracks before he could follow in his father's footsteps.

Steve is reluctant. But later, as he lies unconscious after a nearly fatal attempt on his life, Simon and Wendy inject him with the FLAG serum rather than let him die.

He recuperates quickly and soon exhibits the expected super strength, vision, hearing and agility. Finally realizing that he owes his life to the FLAG, Steve vows to become the new Captain America, to attempt to right the wrongs the law can't touch, and to fight to uphold justice and The American Ideal.

Specially outfitted as Captain America, Steve takes on his first quarry: Lou Brackett, (Forrest) a power-made industrialist who intends to steal $1.4 billion in gold bullion while holding the city of Phoenix hostage with the threat of his homemade neutron bomb.

Sunday in Carolina

The tv magazine that reads people.

You may see the bitter-sweet story of a dying fishing village on Cape Hatteras. Or the outrageous tale of a mountain man carving animal sculpture with a chainsaw. "Sunday in Carolina" presents the human side of the Carolinas with the unique flair of Brad Lacey and Nerissa Williams. Watch it. You could see someone you know.
