Spock To Appear

On Consumer

Survival Kit

Dr. Benjamin Spock, one of the world's leading pediatricians, will be on the television program Consumer Survival Kit Saturday, April 21 at 5 p.m. on Channel 42.

According to Dr. Spock, author of the record-breaking bestseller, "Baby and Child Care," some families will do just as well for their children by going to a general practitioner instead of a pediatrician.

As with every CSK program, viewers are provided information designed to help them get the most for their dollars in today's inflationary marketplace. It is the only regularly scheduled consumer series on TV.

The latest edition of CSK also explains how a citizen can save thousands of dollars by selling his own home, instead of hiring a broker, and offers some advice on saving in advance to pay for a college education.

Ms. Mary Cherry

Wins Passes To

Carowinds

A former winner of a color TV set, Ms. Mary Cherry in Charlotte recently won four season passes to the Carowinds Theme Park.

Ms. Cherry received the Carowinds passes from a drawing sponsored by Kroger SaveOn in early April. She was given the color TV in late March at a raffle sponsored by Young Ford.

Ms. Cherry is employed at NCNB in downtown Charlotte.

Stanley Roper (Norman Fell) makes a try for the door to sneak out of the apartment, even though he hasn't gotten dressed first, on "The Ropers," the new comedy airing Tuesday, April 24 on ABC.
