Elvin Bishop And Friends On Soundstage

-Elvin Bishop and "boogie-rock" comes to SOUNDSTAGE Sat. December 15, at 5 p.m. on Channel 42.

Described as "lively, hard and loopy Southern boogie-rock," Bishop's musical style is fast paced and metallic. "Eatin' Hell," "Main Kicking In Your Stall," "Struttin' My Stuff," "Wiggle Wobble," and "Goin' Fishin," are among the songs Bishop performs on SOUNDSTAGE. Yet, for all the looseness in style that Bishop projects, his music is always played tightly and succinctly.

Also appearing on SOUNDSTAGE with Bishop are Mighty Joe Young and Son Seals. The two

Chicago-renowned rhythm and blues artists each perform some of their favorite songs. Seals sings "Cotton Pickin' Blues" and "On My Knees" after which Bishop turns his head over to Young for "Need a Friend" and "Why Baby."

A musical highlight in the hour-long show is the Young-Seals-Bishop performance of "Rock Me." "Good Time Music" has also been used as a tag-line to describe Bishop's musical style—and it seems most apropos when the Young-Seals-Bishop trio jams together.

The program is held together by Bishop and his laid-back, but restless, style. When he sings, "Got To Put On My Traveling Shoes," the audience can't help but believe him.

SOUNDSTAGE is produced by WTTW-Chicago Public Television with Ken Ehrlich, producer, Dick Carter, director, and Theo Finnem, executive producer.
