Weeping Willow AME Zion Church To Observe Victory Day Here Sunday

By Teresa Burns
Post Staff Writer

The Intermediate Missionary Society of Weeping Willow AME Zion Church will observe Victory Day Sunday, Jan. 17.

This observance is an annual event held throughout the AME Zion connection in honor of Victoria Richardson.

In the spring of 1909 she organized the first young woman's missionary society in Salisbury.

Weeping Willow's service in memory of her will begin at 3 p.m.

The Layman's Council of Weeping Willow will sponsor a program featuring McClintock Presbyterian Church in concert. This evening of fellowship and song will be held Sunday Jan. 24 at 5 p.m. The public is cordially

NEW ST. JOHN'S
Rev. Robert Leak, pastor of New St. John's Baptist Church will deliver the sermon entitled "What You Have When You Have Jesus" Sunday, Jan. 17 at 11 a.m.

The church is located at 2000 St John Rd. The public is cordially invited to hear this inspiring sermon.

GRIER HEIGHTS
The Grier Heights United Presbyterian Church, located at 325 Skyland Ave. will continue to give freely to the Emergency Assistance Fund through both the church and Crisis Assistance Ministry.

A challenge has been presented to the church to make this effort a success. Any contributions given by members will be matched (up to $400).

Members of Grier Heights Pres. Church would like to thank each and everyone who has contributed. There is much need in the community and it is good to know that there are those willing to give.

Rev. Lloyd B. Morris is pastor of Grier Heights.

SECOND CALVARY CPCC Plans Workshop For Young Artists

Weavers, potters and painters will have an opportunity to learn more about how to make a living selling their art at a workshop at Central Piedmont Community College.

A two-day workshop for struggling artists is scheduled for January 15-16.

Topics include finding outlets for art work, pricing, contracts, copyrights, law, record keeping, insurance and preparing portfolios.

Registration for the workshop, sponsored by U.S. Small Business Administration, CPCC, N.C. Department of Community

Colleges, the N.C. Arts Council and the Greater Charlotte Chamber of Commerce, is $25, which includes a buffet luncheon on Saturday. Write Emma R. Quinn, coordinator of Small Business Center at CPCC or call 373-6900.

The workshop is from 1-6:30 p.m. on Friday, January 15.

The Junior Missionary Department of Second Calvary Baptist Church will meet Sat. Jan. 16 at 4 p.m. All members are asked to attend this meeting which will be held in the church.

architectural engineering major from Nigeria; Johnny Benfield, an industrial technology major from Thomasville, N.C.; and Michael Cureton, a transportation major from Charlotte.

According to Dr. Arthur Saltzman, director of the institute, the students will assist faculty members in research related to transportation concerns. They will also participate in field trips, seminars and conferences sponsored by the institute.

"We hope that this meaningful involvement of these students in transportation research and training," said Saltzman, "will motivate them to seriously consider possible careers in the transportation field."

The A&T Transportation Institute, a program of the School of Business and Economics, has become a regional center for training and research in urban and rural transportation problems. The center has assisted a number of communities with transportation concerns and has published a number of important transportation research reports.

The Easy Way To The Good Life.

You want to be able to enjoy retirement, right? To take the trips you've always planned. To live well. But saving money isn't easy, today. It takes planning and determination...right now. But an Individual Retirement Account from First Citizens Bank can give you the easy way now and the good life later.

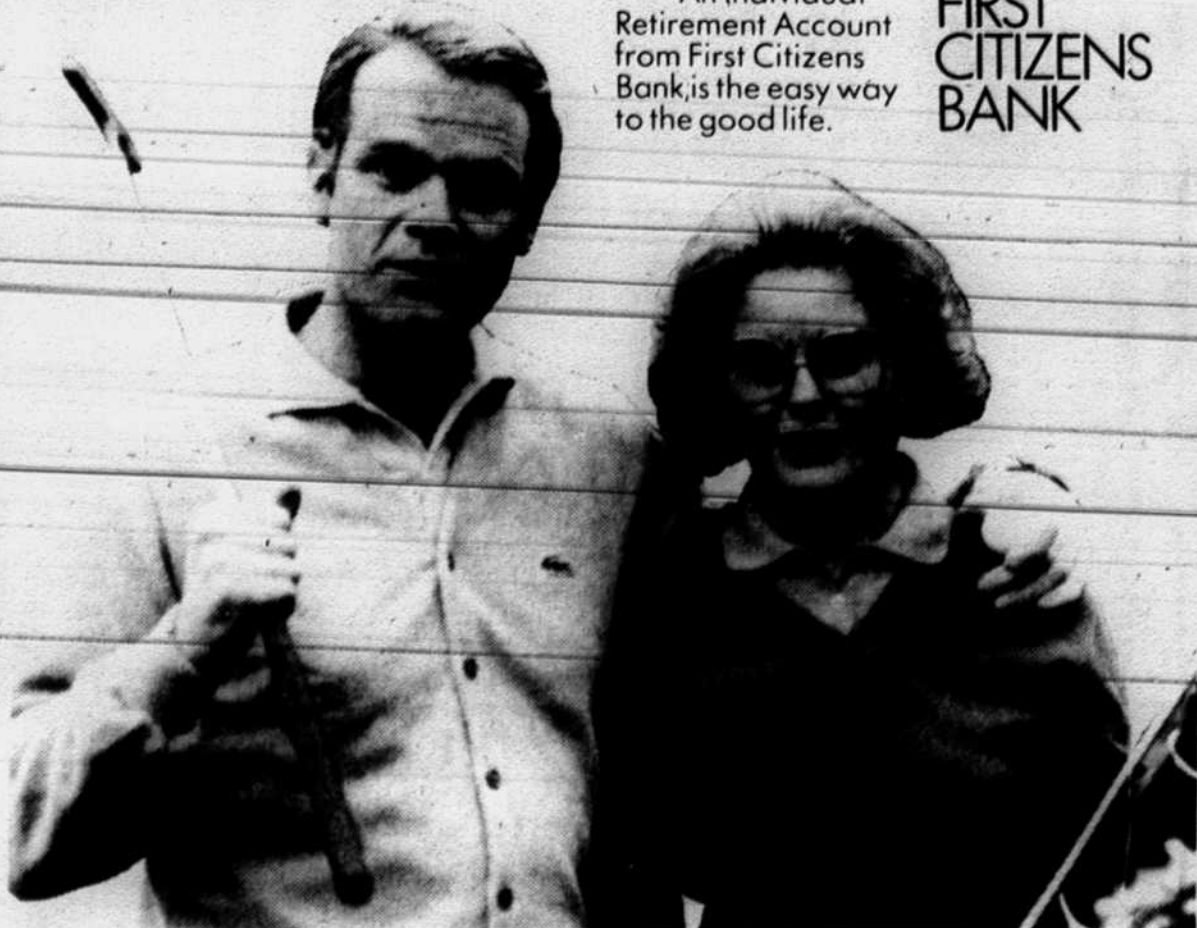

An IRA is a special savings program which provides you with tax savings now and security in your retirement years...because income from Social Security is often insufficient for a comfortable retirement.

In the past some individuals could invest tax-deductible funds in an IRA. Now, because of the 1981 Economic Recovery Act, if you have earned income, you, too, are eligible to participate. Even if you are covered by some other retirement plan.

With a First Citizens IRA, you can defer paying tax on your deposits and the interest you earn until you retire. There's no fee for administering your IRA, and your deposits are insured by the FDIC up to $100,000 at First Citizens...unlike some IRA programs elsewhere.

An Individual Retirement Account from First Citizens Bank is the easy way to the good life.
