

Fraternity To Sponsor Fifth Annual Beautillion Militaire

The Charlotte Alumni Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity is sponsoring its fifth annual Beautillion Militaire, a leadership training project for high school senior men.

The Beaux that were picked for this project have exemplified a combination of superior scholarship, outstanding leadership and continued community involvement.

The young men have engaged in a series of seminars and workshops designed to aid them socially, educationally, morally, culturally and economically.

They have been introduced to outstanding personalities such as Dr. Robert Albright, vice chancellor of Student Affairs at UNCC; Dr. Bertha Maxwell of UNCC; Bill Cunningham of Hatchett and Cunningham Associates; Dr. Carl Squires and Dr. David Hunter of Central Piedmont Community College; William Pickens of the Consumer Credit Counseling Bureau; Shirley Farrar of the Afro-American Cultural Center; Rev. Edward Newberry of Memorial United Presbyterian Church; Mary Martin of the County's Extension Service; Humphrey Cummings of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission; Harvey Gantt of the Gantt and Huberman Architect firm and Robert Reeves and James Cuthbertson of The Charlotte Post newspaper.

Future guests include William Blakeney of the Charlotte-Mecklenburg School System, Howard Counts and Dr. Ben Diaz and Dr. Rufus Pettis of Johnson C. Smith University, Willard Corley of North Carolina National Bank, Dr. C. W. Williams and Robert Moore of Johnson C. Smith University.

The Beautillion Militaire will begin on Friday, March 26, at the Quality Inn on McDowell Street at 7 p.m.

Participating in the project are Jerry Latimore of South Mecklenburg, Steve Griffin of South Mecklenburg, Nathaniel May of Harding, Robert Lee Cousar Jr. of South Mecklenburg, Albert Blake of Independence, Andre Crawford of Harding, Vincent Hendricks of South Mecklenburg, David Taylor of West Charlotte, Vernon Simpson of Harding, Thomas Horton of Harding, Robert Green of Myers Park, Melvin Wallace of Olympic, Charles Gibson of Olympic, Ber-

Carl Flamer, chairman of the Beautillions Militaire Committee said that the men of the Charlotte Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity believe that in any time, a commitment to our youth is a wise investment that will reap tremendous dividends.

"We see them as being young men with promise, talent, goals, and working into significant futures as leaders in every field of human endeavor.

Members of the fraternity on the Beautillion Militaire Committee are Flamer, Rufus G. Pettis, Edward Newberry, Frank Gadsden, Calvin Banks, Lawrence Pettis, Harold Dawkins, James Potts, Clarence Johnson, Paul Stoney, Allen Griffin, Joe Majors, Bernard Brown, Bernard Bradford, C.W. Williams, and William M. Blakeney.

The Beautillion Militaire according to Fraternity Polemarch (president) Calvin Banks is one of a few in the entire United States.

"Kappa Alpha Psi takes pride in being an achieving organization," said Banks. "Anytime, we can help our people strive to achieve we will work endlessly. The fruits of this Beautillion will not be seen until later years, but young men who have been through our program are striving in college, in graduate and professional schools. We would like to think that we helped spur this interest in achieving through interaction in our Beautillion Militaire.
