LESSON BACKGROUND

The disciples were appalled by Jesus' power when He stilled the storm at sea. He suggested that they sail across to the other side of the lake on the evening of that same day. "So they left the crowd. The disciples got into the boat that Jesus was already in, and took Him with them. Other boats were there too." (TEV). (vs. 36). Jesus fell asleep, probably fatigued from His day's healings and teaching. During this time, a strong wind and high waves came, and almost submerged their boat. The disciples were afraid and awakened Him. They said, "teacher, don't you care that we are about to die?" Jesus then commanded the wind: "Be quiet!" and He said to the waves, "Be still!" The wind died down, and there was a great calm. (Mk. 4:38-39. TEV).

Who was this man? was the question the disciples began to ask themselves. They knew His name and hometown, but now they suspected that He was more than that. Jesus then asked the men, why they had not trusted God for their safety...This background is an appropriate introduction to Jesus' struggle with Satanic powers which awaits Him at Gadara, as seen in today's lesson.

LESSON EXPLAINED

When Jesus and His disciples reached the other side of the sea, they were met by a "man with an unclean spirit." He was the terror of the area, "exceedingly fierce so that no man might pass by that way." (Matt. 8:28). Luke says he wore no clothes. Because of demonic power, it was impossible to keep him restrained. So he roamed the hillsides, night and day moaning and self-inflicting himself with stones. (vss. 1-5).

Verses 6-7 tell us the man's reaction when he saw Jesus at a distance: He ran and "fell on his knees before Him and cried with a loud voice, acknowledging Jesus as Son of God. He begged Him not to torment him." Apparently his plea came as a result of Jesus' command to his spirit to come out of him.

Jesus then asked the man his name. The unclean spirit must have answered because he said, "my name is Legion: for we are many." A legion in the Roman army number six-thousand. The word "legion" was probably used here to indicate the presence of a much larger number. The fact is that Jesus was implying that there were more than one demon possessing this man. (vs. 9).

The meaning is unclear in verse 10; but Luke says, "and they, through their spokesman, besought Him that He would not command them to go out into the deep." This scripture seems to refer to that deep place where Satan and his hosts are "reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day." (Jude 1:6).

The multi-demons begged that they be allowed to enter a herd of about 2,000 pigs that were feeding nearby. When Jesus gave His permission, the herd ran down a steep hill into the sea. (vss. 11-13).

Those who were attending the pigs, ran immediately to report to the owners what had happened. They came out to see for themselves: The pigs were gone, but Jesus was there with the man who had been possessed. They were frightened by a sane man, who, instead of running wild and naked, was clothed and sitting quietly. These owners were also afraid of Jesus who had just demonstrated supernatural power in their midst.

This lesson text ends with verse 15, but in order to get the whole story of what happened that day, one should read through verse 20.

CLOSING SUMMARY

This lesson has shown Jesus' fearlessness before a storm and a demoniac. Demons used him to terrorize the area around him. When Jesus met him, the demons forced him to beg for mercy, in order to avoid punishment. They were afraid of being sent to the 'deep,' a dark 'abyss' where demons are reserved for judgment. Jesus gave them permission to enter into a herd of pigs. When they were (demons) expelled from him they ran into the sea. The owners of the herd were afraid of the sane man, because of a behavioral change in him.
