Dallas

Even Miss Ellie seems to have lost all patience with J.R., which could severely hamper him in the custody fight for his son, on a rebroadcast of "Dallas," Friday, May 7 at 9 p.m. on WBTB, Channel 3.

As J.R. prepares to challenge Sue Ellen for temporary custody of John Ross, his plans for discrediting her backfire. Meanwhile, Hobby desperately tries to find an adoptive child for Pam and himself as his wife's emotional stability declines to the extent she obviously needs medical help. Life is looking up for Cliff Barnes as he assumes presidency of Wentworth Tool and Die and meets his step-sister, Katherine, for the first time. Ray, also, is enjoying his new rewards as a businessman but his wife share his enthusiasm with a great deal of apprehension. The new Dr. Cooper saves a woman's life in an emergency procedure, but pride makes Mitch refuse the generous compensation offered by her husband, while his sister, Afton, asserts herself with J.R. but is forced to back down.

Jacki Sorenson, the aerobic dance pioneer, led the sisters in a special exercise demonstration at the mall, following which there was an autograph-signing session at the mall's Warehouse record store. Sister Sledge's current hit album, "The Sisters," includes the dance-circize tune entitled "Jacki's Theme: There's No Stopping Us." For the mall appearance, Ms. Sorenson and the sisters wore special T-shirts bearing the song's title. "The Sisters" LP also contains the hit single "My Guy."
