Frontline Focuses On "The Struggle In Birmingham"

Somehow, Birmingham has always seemed like a battlefield. Twenty years ago, during the 60's, Birmingham, Alabama was a central location for the civil rights movement. Now, 20 years later, Birming ham has become the battlefield for a mature black political movement. "Frontline" focuses on "The Struggle In Birming-ham" Monday, April 2, at 9 p.m. on Channels 42 and 58. OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

They've each gone about it in different ways, but Fred Williamson and William Miles both contend that they want to influence and motivate black view-ers in positive ways as filmmakers.

Williamson has been re-sponsible for such motion sponsible for such motion pictures as "The Legend of Nigger, Charlie," "Three The Hard Way," and "1990 Bronz Warriors." Miles, on the other hand, has made documentaries which include "I Re-member Harlem, "The Dif-ferent Drummer" and "Men of Bronze." ALBUM REVIEWS

System "X-periment

If you've over wondered what the music of the future will sound like, take a listen 'to System's "X nt." To me it classic example of the direction that music has already started to take. On already started to take. On more of an electronic sound, more synthesizers and less emphasis on the voice. In spite of the changes and the altera-tions, quality is still a trademark of the package. Let's go with side one. There's "I Wanna Make You Feel Good," "Dan-You Feel Good," "Dan-gerous," "Lollipops and Everything," "Get Jumpin" and "Escape." On side two you'll hear "Promises Can Break," "X-periment," "Bad Girl" and "I Can't Take Losing You." You."
