To Co-Sponsor Post Contest

By Loretta Manago Post Staff Writer

Only nine days remain efore the fourth annual before the tourn of the Year" contest gets underway. Churches are still lining up representatives to ensure that they are included in the highly competitive contest that is filled with prizes and cameraderies. camaraderie

Editor and publisher Bill Johnson promises that this year's campaign will be the most exciting one yet. In concensus with Mr. Johnson's projection of the contest is both WPEG and Fastern Airlines Roth by Eastern Airlines. Both bu-sinesses have agreed to participate as co-sponsors for the second consecutive

Nancy Cooper, station manager at WPEG, said, "We are very excited that The Charlotte Post has invited us to participate in the fourth annual "Churchwoman of the Year" contest and we expect it to be a test and we expect it to be a bigger and better event

Last year, WPEG participated throughout the campaign donating air time and becoming active ly involved in the campaign's banquet. WPEG also donated a prize to one of the Churchwoman con. testants. According to Ms. Cooper, the role that WPEG will play this year will be similar to their previous function in the News director, State Alexander explained why meir station has become involved in this community affair. "We have been working hard over the past few years to foster strong er ties with the religious community and we see the 'Churchwoman of the Year" contest as a viable way of reaching that community."

"Being in a radio atmosphere doesn't always allow us the opportunity to meet other people or have the first-hand contact that we desire. Without a program of this caliber we would be without a valuable access to the reli-gious community," con-tinued Alexander.

Although Ed Bennett,

Although Ed Bennett, manager at Eastern Airlines could not be reached, his company will be responsible for sending the "Churchwoman of the Year" and a companion to some exotic place. Last year, Estelle Davis, the 1963 winner, flew to the Bahamas on an all expense paid trip. As of yet the paid trip. As of yet the destination for this year's winner has not been disclosed.

The "Churchwoman of the Year" campaign begins Sunday, May 27, and will conclude Sunday, July 8. There is still time to join 8. There is still time to join in on the fun and excitement of vying for the prestigious title - "Churchwoman of the Year." Contact Anita Robinson or Michelle Dorsey at 376 0496 to find out how you can be a part of the excitement.
