

Endorsements Continue To Pour In For Eddie Knox

Sen. Gary Hart stated recently he doesn't know if politics is involved in the Soviets' argument about security.

Of course, politics is involved. In fact, it's a key issue, and always has been in the Olympics and any other international effort. The issue has been dramatized so much, the average person interested in the Olympics wouldn't want the Soviets to participate anyway.

Understandably, the country's participation would probably mean a more challenging and competitive outlook from American teams, in spite of the extreme competition which they will certainly face.

Other than that, yes, the concern is strictly political.

..Lt. Gov. Jimmy Green endorsed Eddie Knox for governor, recently. "Over 81,000 Democrats voted for Jimmy Green and that support was statewide. Now he has asked those voters to work for me and the principals and programs that we both support," Knox pointed out.

Knox will face a second primary with Rufus Edmisten, June 5. Knox also received endorsements from Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles, a 1972 gubernatorial candidate, the professional Drivers Association, and Andy Barker, a founding member of the Carolina Gun Collectors Association.

investigation concerning the results of desegregation was conducted by the National Education Association (NEA). The findings will be released May 17 by NEA. According to Peter Woolfolk, of national NEA, the report, "Three Cities That Are Making Desegregation Work," coincides with the 30th anniversary of the Supreme Court's "Brown" decision. Other cities included in the research are Austin (Texas) and Seattle (Washington).

..Persons interested in running for delegate to the Democratic National Convention must file a Notice of Candidacy by May 17, according to Party chairman David Price.

88 delegates will be selected at congressional district, June 2. The remaining delegates will be chosen June 16 at the Raleigh convention. Prospective delegates may obtain the candidacy forms from Everett Ward at State Democratic Headquarters, (919) 821-2777. Seventy-five of the delegates will be pledged to candidates, 13 delegates will be unpledged. The Democratic National Convention will be held July 16-19 in San Francisco.

..Gov. Jim Hunt has accused his opponent, Jesse Helms, of being "instrumental in setting up the ARENA party, which has been linked to the right-wing death squads that have murdered thousands of civilians in El Sal-

The two candidates will probably continue to expose each other's political records as they campaign for the coveted 9th Congressional seat.
