

JOHNSIE YOUNG
...Unselfish commitment

Of Las Amigas
Johnsie Young Honored As "Most Outstanding Member"

Johnsie Young was recently voted "Most Outstanding Member" of the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Chapter of Las Amigas. This 1984 honor was bestowed upon Mrs. Young because of unselfish commitment to the club, because of community involvement and many personal achievements. Perhaps it has been Mrs. Young's love for mankind that has allowed her to be so involved in manifesting positive results.

"I have always been a person who likes people," Mrs. Young began. "I believe it is my God-given responsibility to work with people. I don't know any other way to be."

Mrs. Young feels that giving of oneself is a guarantee that the generation of tomorrow will be fulfilled. "Dedication is the nucleus for the growth of a community," Mrs. Young continued.

Active as the club's president in 1983; co-chairing the service committee; organizing the oratorical contest and the most outstanding tribute awards to black citizens; chairing the program committee for the Little Miss Las Amigas Pageant; and being a member of the local executive board were all actions from the heart for Mrs. Young.

"I am committed to the Las Amigas Club because the club is really interested in the well-being of the community; and because of the many things the members do also."

Within the community Mrs. Young is a member of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church where Rev. James Shrader pastors.

At church Mrs. Young is chairman of the Elder Board and Youth Group Advisor.

She is her neighborhood's representative for Easter Seals and Muscular Dystrophy and a grade mother for Devonshire Elementary.

She has also received several awards from sororities; the business award from Las Amigas and WSOC-TV featured her during a series about successful people.

Mrs. Young is married to William E. Young and they have three sons Ricardo, Ron and Rodrick.

A graduate of Bennett College, she began her teaching profession in the field of physical education. She later opened a dance studio and is now director of the Revelation School of Modeling and Dance.

With the special gift of endurance Mrs. Young has managed to effect many lives. She has inspired and urged only the best from those who have come in contact with her. These aspects are what truly make her outstanding.

Catching another glimpse of the new world he has been introduced to provides another adventurous moment in the life of Toure DuBois Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bradley. Born March 16 at Charlotte's Presbyterian Hospital, Toure weighed in at eight pounds and five ounces. He is still receiving gifts from admiring fans who anxiously awaited his arrival. For their love Toure gives a big thanks.

Charlotte Will Receive Community Development Block Grant Funds

Stoval Scholarship Fund

Applications for the 1984-85 Gail Stoval Scholarship Fund must be submitted to Bethlehem Center, 2705 Baltimore Avenue, by 5 p.m. on Friday, May 31.

The Gail Stoval Scholarship fund was established by the Bethlehem Center Board of Directors in 1981 in honor of Ms. Gail Stoval, a junior high school counselor whose dedication and love for her students made her an example for all to follow. The scholarships are for educational purposes only and are given to encourage community youth to set high standards for themselves and to strive for excellence. All applicants must have a good academic record and must have been involved in Bethlehem Center activities as a participant or as a Youth Worker.

Blank applications together with a complete list of eligibility requirements can be obtained from Ms. Roberta Thompson, Bethlehem Center Administrative Secretary, Mondays through Fridays, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The second annual Gail Stoval Scholarship Award(s) will be announced at the Bethlehem Center Board of Directors' Meeting on Thursday, June 21, at 5:30 p.m.
