Mrs. Collins Named President Of YWCA

"Our One Imperative: The Elimination Racism" is the motto of Charlotte's Young Association (YWCA). The Association has taken a giant leap towards that elimination by appointing the first black President of the Charlotte YWCA in its 82 year history.

Billye Collins was one of several names considered by a special committee of the YWCA. The Board of Directors made the final decision to have her serve the one year term and to manage the largest women's organization in the city. The YWCA has over 12,000 members including an International Committee composed of 30 ladies from other countries The 1984 Outstanding YWCA Member Lanui Hoover is a member of this committee)

The YWCA in Charlotte is also one of the 10 largest YWCA's on the Eastern Seaboard. Diligently, Mrs. Collins plans to work on the mission of the Y - the elimination of racism. "It's important to me because I am a black woman and I want to be a part of the elimination of racism,' Mrs. Collins conveyed.

By interaction, special educational programs and by reaching out to communities, the Y is bridging many of society's gaps. 'We would like to reach more low income individuals by providing scholarships so many can participate in programs in their

The Planning Committee The Y also has long range plans. "I plan to continue with the goals and objectives outlined in our threeyear-plan, and hope that the YWCA continues to grow and thrive.'

Mrs. Collins and her husband, Dr. Limone Collins came to Charlotte 11 years ago from Prairie View, TX.

For eight years Mrs. Collins has served as a volunteer and Board Member of the YWCA.

"Jesse Helms' record indicates that his solution would be increased out-ofpocket costs and decreased benefits for the elderly, rather than effective steps to control hospital costs, said Hunt, noting that Helms has voted to cut billions from Medicare and to require the elderly to pay more for home health

"Senior citizens already devote about a fifth of their incomes - about $125 a month - to paying their health bills. How much more does Jesse Helms think our senior citizens can pay?" Hunt asked.

He also pointed out that Senator Helms has voted to scrap the Social Security system and replace it with some kind of private plan. "In fact, Jesse Helms is willing to sacrifice a sound Social Security and Medicare system to get votes by pitting young workers against older retirees," he declared.

"That approach is dead wrong. It strikes at the each generation of Americans makes with the next: to keep the system going so that all of us can look forward to lives of security and dignity."
