League To Offer Free Rides To Polls On Election Day

By Audrey C. Lodato
Post Staff Writer

If you are one of the people who never got around to registering to vote, you are still entitled to vote in the presidential election. Federal law mandates that every otherwise eligible citizen be allowed to cast a ballot for the nation's highest office. This applies to those who may have moved into the county too recently to have met residency criteria, as well as to those who just haven't bothered to register, for whatever reason. The way you do this is to report to the Elections Office any time through November 1 and cast your ballot then and there.

P.S. While you're at it, why not go ahead and register so you'll be able to vote in future elections?

If you will be unable to vote in person on Election Day, you can obtain an absentee ballot by mail through a near relative, or by the one-stop absentee process. This must be done by November 1. Contact the Elections Office at 710 East Fourth Street, 374-2133.

WFAE Sponsors Scottish Concert

Scotland's Battlefield Band returns to Charlotte for a WFAE-sponsored concert on Sunday, October 28, at 8 p.m. in the Lucas Room of the Cone University Center, UNCC. Making their third appearance in Charlotte, Scotland's foremost folk group will be recorded in performance for future broadcast by WFAE-FM 91, public radio.

After more than a decade of delivering the musical heritage of Scotland to enthusiasts throughout the world, the Battlefield Band has truly earned its place at the forefront of the Scottish folk music scene. With an approach to their music that is ever respectful of tradition, while allowing for original composition and creative arrangements, the group has managed to attract ever-widening audiences, especially on their regular visits to the United States.

Listeners to WFAE's nationally syndicated radio series 'The Thistle & Shamrock' (Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Fridays at 4 p.m. on FM 91) are familiar with the sounds of Battlefield Band's splendid vocals, backed by Dougie Pincock's highland bagpipes,

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg League of Women Voters will demonstrate voting machines and answer questions about the sample ballot and voting districts this weekend. Locations and times are as follows: Friday, October 26, 11 a.m. - 2 p.m., First Union Plaza; Saturday, October 27, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m., Eastland, Freedom, and Tryon Malls; Sunday, October 28, 1-4 p.m., same locations as on Saturday.

The League is also offering free rides to and from the polls on Election Day. Call 372-0675 for a ride.

Free child care for infants and preschoolers of voting parents will be available between 9 a.m. 12:30 p.m. and 4-7:30 p.m. at the following precincts: No. 15, Kilgo Methodist Church; No. 26, Cole Memorial United Methodist Church; No. 52, St. Mark United Methodist Church; and No. 78, New Testament Fellowship.

The King & Queen will host a fashion show on November 4, 6-9 p.m., to raise funds for Raleigh Bynum's campaign.

A 9th Congressional District rally to honor D. G. Martin will be held on Saturday, November 3, at the Park Center, 310 N. Kings Drive. Festivities begin at 7 p.m. with live music during the old-

Senator Jesse Helms, accompanied by former NFL star Rosey Grier, appeared on the campus of Livingstone College as part of a series of assemblies to provide students, faculty, and community with the opportunity to meet and question candidates for local, state and national offices. The visit, according to Helms' press secretary, Claude Allen, marked

For what it's worth, the following political endorsements have been announced: the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Lodge No. 9, Fraternal Order of Police, has recommended to its membership D. G. Martin for Congress; the N.C. League of Conservation Voters has endorsed Rufus Edmisten for Governor, Lacy Thornburg for Attorney General, John Brooks
