.....She was Miss Cindy Scott

Miss Cindy Scott Weds George Massey Fulwood

On Saturday afternoon, December 1, in an impressive candle-light ceremony in a holiday setting of red poinsettias and greenery, Miss Cindy Elizabeth Scott and George Massey Fulwood exchanged their marriage vows.

The Rev. S. L. Fulwood, father of the groom, and the Rev. W. D. Bailey, the bride's pastor, officiated at the two o'clock ceremony at Memorial Presbyterian Church on Beatties Ford Road.

Preceding the ceremony, pre-nuptial music was played by Theadore Avery, organist, and Robert H. Leak sang, "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride, the daughter of Mrs. Bobbie M. Scott, was given in marriage by her uncle, George L. Mickles of Far Rockaway, N.Y. She was radiant in a gown of white organza and lace. The gown featured a modified empire waistline, a high neckline, and long sleeves with soft fullness tapering into points at the wrist. The lace bodice was accented with seed pearls and lace appliques adorned the full skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell gracefully from a camelot cap of seed pearls and lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, red rosebuds and baby's breath.

Miss Karen L. Scott, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and Mrs. Patricia C. Harris was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Penelope E. Scott, and Julie A. Scott, sisters of the bride; Mrs. Kathy H. Wilson, Ms. Michelle Erwin, and Mrs. I. Lorraine M. Poindexter, cousin of the groom from Alexandria, Va. The bridal attendants wore identical gowns of red satin with puffed sleeves and scalloped necklines. The gowns were highlighted by embroidered bodices, ruffled accents at the shoulder, and flattering A-line skirts. They wore short, white lace gloves and each carried a single long-stemmed white rosebud accented with baby's breath and red and white ribbons. Sprigs of baby's breath adorned their hair. Little Miss Nicole Elizabeth Scott was the flower girl. She wore a red satin long dress of the same styling as the bridesmaids. She carried a white basket filled with red and white flowers.

Sam L. Fulwood III of Baltimore, Md., was his brother's best man. The groomsmen were Rudolph M. Harrison, S. Leon Brooks, Wayne T. Strong, Eugene J. Stitt, Jonathan P. Belton, and William E. White.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Scott chose a floor-length skirt of red velvet and a white satin blouse with long, full sleeves and a self-tie bow at the back neckline. A diamond-shaped applique elegantly accented the front neckline. She wore a double white carnation corsage with red and white ribbons. Mrs. Fulwood, mother of the groom, chose for her son's wedding a street-length dress of red crepe featuring a semi-circular full skirt and a fully beaded bodice with wrist length full sleeves. She wore a double white carnation corsage with red and white ribbons.

Among the guests from out of town were: Mrs. Annie Bell Lyttle, grandmother of the bride, from Far Rockaway, N.Y.; Mr. Paul D.

Renee Alexander and Michael Jerome Carlton were recently united in holy matrimony. The wedding, which took place at St. Paul Baptist Church, was officiated by Rev. Paul Drummond, Michelle Edgerton and Howard Davenport, the groom's brother, were the maid of honor and the best man, respectively. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Paul, the bride is a graduate of Olympic High School and A&T State University. She also attended Central Piedmont Community College. She is employed with TJ Maxx in Atlanta, Ga., in the processing department. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carlton of Wilkesboro. He graduated from Wilkesboro Senior High School and UNC-Charlotte. He also attended Appalachian State University and is a member of Omega Psi Fraternity. Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at the bride's home, 9024 Windson Dr. The couple will reside in Atlanta, Ga.
