AABWE Elects
President Of Charlotte Chapter

Betty Pride, owner and manager of All World Tours, Charlotte's first black-owned Interstate Commerce Commission-approved travel agency, has been named president of the Charlotte Chapter of the American Association of Black Women Entrepreneurs, Inc.

The American Association of Black Women Entrepreneurs, Inc., a national trade association, will officially install the Charlotte Chapter on January 11. Clara Williams, Director of Public Affairs at WGIV, will address the group during the installation ceremony.

Other offices of the Charlotte Chapter are Brenda Smith, vice president; Judy Daniels, recording secretary; Jean Henderson, corresponding secretary; Marilyn Wright, treasurer; Rosalind Rowe-Anderson, chaplain; and Francina E. King, parliamentarian. Rose Marie Cotton, a U.S. Small Business Administration representative in Charlotte, has been instrumental in assisting with the legal procedures in formulating the Charlotte group.

The Association will move into Tennessee, culminating the membership drive at the national convention in Memphis, TN, during August, 1985.

King Holiday

City government will observe Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday as a holiday on Tuesday, January 15.

The Sanitation Division will operate on an amended schedule. During the holiday week backyard refuse collection will be provided on its regular Monday-Thursday schedule and on Wednesday-Friday for residences regularly scheduled for Tuesday-Friday collection. Curbside trash and bagged leaves will be collected on the second day of each schedule, Thursday or Friday.

The City Animal Control Division will be closed January 15. Only emergency cases will be handled by calling 334-9146.

Recreation Centers operated by the Charlotte Parks and Recreation Department will be closed for the holiday. Revolution Golf Course will be open.

Buses operated by the Charlotte Transit System will operate on a regular schedule.

Politics

chairman of the Financial Committee that is female in either the House or Senate, that I know of. The overall chairman of appropriations has never been a woman."

While she believes that "it helps to be a woman running for office" in Mecklenburg County because "there's a very strong women's movement here." Easterling, like Green, denies that being a woman candidate is enough to ensure the support of women voters. "Women don't get elected because they're women, as maybe they did in the beginning," she notes, although women will sometimes cross party lines to vote for a woman. The main thing, she says, is "you have to prove you can do the job."

For a female candidate, especially, building name recognition is important, and, once elected, "you have to do a passable job. To gain the respect of other members of the General Assembly, you need to be taken seriously." Easterling admits that, as in other professions, a woman in politics has a harder time proving herself.
