Miss Venita Buford Weds Kenneth Funderburke

Venita Irene Buford and Kenneth Funderburk were recently united in holy matrimony at New Zion Baptist Church. Rev. Anthony L. Jinwright, pastor of Salem Baptist Church, and Rev. Jeremiah Robinson Sr., pastor of New Zion, presided over the wedding ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian gown of white taffeta styled with a high neckline, straight sleeves, puffed shoulders, and a dropped waistline. The gown's bodice was adorned with Alencon lace and pearls, and the full lampshade ruffled skirt fell into a cathedral train also adorned with Alencon lace. A matching hat with brim of accordian pleated organza silk, Venise lace, a fingertip veil, pearls and French illusion, enhanced the bride's attire.

The maid of honor, Sharlene Stowe, and the four bridesmaids each wore maize gowns of matte taffeta styled with pencil-wired ruffled shoulders, a high neckline of French illusion and sposabella lace with a ruffle at the gown's waist. While the bride carried a long nosegay of yellow and white silk flowers and baby's breath, the bridal attendants bore opened white lace umbrellas with yellow silk flower arrangements on one side. The bridesmaids were Nancy Cureton, Pamela Buford, Mindy Buford. and Angela Buford.

In a white taffeta gown with ruffled shoulders and back, Melody Buford was the junior bridesmaid. She carried a white lace fan decorated with yellow silk flowers.

Flower girl, Ryskia Davis, wore a yellow taffeta gown accented with layers of white lace and carried a white lace basket with assorted colored silk flowers.

Anti-Apartheid Vigil Planned For April 24

Charlotteans will hold an anti-apartheid yigil Wednesday, April 24, near the uptown Marriott beginning at 10 a.m. A teach-in will begin at 11:30 a.m. in the Park at the Square.

Charlotteans For a Free South Africa, a locally based group of churches, community and service organizations, and university faculty and students, have planned the vigil and teach-in in an effort to increase local awareness of and opposition to South Africa's apartheid policies.

Apartheid is the South African government's official policy of "se-parate development" which effec-tively discriminates against blacks and other non-whites, politically, economically and socially.

Since 1948, thousands of blacks have been killed by South African police in the government's efforts to impose inhumane laws which ef-fectively destroy black families, restrains freedom of speech and movement, and strips blacks of

The date of the vigil-teach-in has been planned to coincide with the NCNB Bank stockholders' meeting which will begin at the uptown Marriott at 11 a.m., Wedn April 24. NCNB is one of the major U.S. investors in South Africa and for years has been the subject of much public criticism for its involvement in South Africa. Many stockholders plan to introduce a resolution in the meeting calling for NCNB to end all new loans and investments in South Africa.

The public is cordially invited to
