

OLLIE AND CLINTON PERRY ... Celebrate Silver Anniversary

25 Years Of Marriage Develop "Countless" Memories For The Perrys

By Loretta Manago Post Staff Writer

Throughout the 25 years of marriage of Clinton and Ollie Perry, there are countless memories, but none are so vivid as the memories of when the couple first met.

"I was in the service at the time and I was stationed in Arizona. That's where my wife is from. I was

Hurricane Awareness

Raleigh - Governor James G. Martin proclaimed the week of June 9-15 as Hurricane Awareness Week in North Carolina.

Martin appealed to all citizens of North Carolina to become better informed about the nature of hurri-canes and the steps to take to better protect lives and minimize property damage.

"Hurricane Diana caused more than $65 million in damages last year. I hope that public awareness campaigns, like this one, will help to imize damage to homes and as if another hurricane strikes,"

Micially, the hurricane season gins June 1 and continues ough November 30. Most hurries occur during the menths of gust, September, and Oc-oh W. Dean, secretary of the ent of Crime Control and c Safety, said, "We have been fortunate in North Carolina. It n 25 years since a major ne struck the coast. Howwe have seen what a minor like Hurricane Diana can do. king some simple precautions thurricane season, people will to do if hurricane watch-nings are issued."

also a member in a rock and roll band and one day Ollie came to one of our rehearsals with her boyfriend who was going to try out for the band. It just seems like our meeting was one of those things that happened. We dated about six months before we married," recalled Mr. Perry.

What began as a short courtship has evolved into a life-long commitment between Clinton and Ollie Perry. They would be the first to tell you that not every day has been easy, but despite that, every day that they have been united as husband and wife has certainly been worth it.

The Perrys, it seems, have learned the secret to a happy mar-riage. But it's one secret that they are willing to share with any cou-ple contemplating marriage. "I strongly feel that you have to take the good with the bad. You have to work together in order to make your marriage work and you should never stay mad at one another," commented Mrs. Perry.

In Mr. Perry's opinion, it is important to keep your problems behind closed doors. "I've found that taking your problems to outsiders is a had idea. Everyone is not your friend. The best thing to do is to discuss your problems among your-selves and confide in one another. And never forget that it takes two to ge by her son, Richard Perry. And the wedding party consisted of matrons of honor-Edna Sholtz, daughter of the bride and groom, and Janie Nelson; best man-James Perry; maids of honor-Sharyn Sanders and Myrna White; bridesmaids-Francis Dewalt, Patricia Kiser, Sarah Hill, Laura Perry, Pearlene Lewis, Dorothy Bell, Ruth Williams, Charlie Clyburn, Reba Wilson, Darleen Perry, Sharon Gabriel, Sandra Dunlap, Betty Funderburk and Delores Pegues; groomsmen-Freddie Dewalt, Tommy Ware, Leroy Hill Sr., Vinson Perry, son of the wedding couple, Michael Stowe, Benjamin Bell, Jerry Creighton, Larry Stowem, Reginald Wilson, Stanley Perry, Greg Gabriel, Jimmy Dunlap, Jeffrey Ford and Elder Clinton Perry III, son of the bride and groom; flower girls-Latasha Perry, daughter of the couple, and Kinyon Perry and ring bearer-Master Dominick Perry.

In celebration of the Perrys' silver anniversary the couple recently renewed their wedding vows. The ceremony, which took place at the United House of Prayer, was officiated by Apostle N. Rhyne Jr.

Music for the ceremony was provided by organist, Harold Rice and soloists Annie Thompson and Elder Clinton Perry III.

After the wedding the couple honeymooned in the Bahamas.

The Perrys, who are members of the United House of Prayer, take an active part in the church. Mrs. Perry is involved with the Senior nurses and Mr. Perry works with the Senior Business Board. He is also a 23 year employee with Pic-N-Pay Shoes

J.C. Smith And UNCC Establish Joint Summer Internship Program

An agreement signed May 30 by leaders of Johnson C. Smith University and the University of North Carolina at Charlotte will establish a joint summer internship and faculty development program in Washington, D.C.

The agreement will enable students from both schools to work and study in Washington during the summer. Called the Washington Summer Experience, the internshiptype program will allow students to work in congressional offices or other government agencies to gain valuable insight into how our federal government operates.

In a ceremony at Johnson C. Smith, Dr. James H. Werntz, vice chancellor for academic affairs at UNCC, and Dr. James Law, vice president for academic affairs at Smith, officially signed the document linking the two schools in the joint project.

The Department of Political Science at UNCC and the Department of History and Political Science at Johnson C. Smith will administer the program. Dr. Terrel L. Rhodes, an assistant professor at UNCC, will be the program's coordinator. The supervising faculty member in residence in Washington this summer is Dr. Earl Green of the Johnson C. Smith faculty.

Students from both institutions will live and work in Washington, D.C., for approximately six weeks.

In addition to working in a government or agency office, students will participate in a seminar conducted by the residing faculty member. Students will write a report of their experience. Six hours academic credit will be awarded to students who successfully complete the internship.

To qualify for the internships students must have a 2.5 grade average, be rising juniors or seniors, and have completed a course in American politics. Students may pay regular fuition and fees for summer. The students will be housed at colleges and universities in the Washington area. The cost of food, housing and all transportation is the responsibility of the students.

The resident faculty members will supervise the interns, arrange and conduct seminars and serve as liaison. The faculty member also may pursue research while in the Washington area.

UNCC had 10 students participate in the Washington Summer Experience last summer. The program was arranged by Dr. Rhodes. based on a similar program which he founded at St. John's University in Minnesota in 1979.

There are nine UNCC students
