Is Beef High in Saturated Fats?

Beef actually contains considerably less fat. Three ounces of cooked lean beef contains about nine grams of fat and less than half of that is saturated. Of all the fat in the U.S. FOOD SUPPLY, 36 percent comes from meat and fish. The increase in fat intake in this country has been caused primarily by an increase in use of vegetable fats. Fats and oils now account for 43 percent of the fat in the food supply.
