Dorinda Thompson Awarded Child Care Credential

Dorinda Thompson of Charlotte has been awarded the Child Development Associate Credential in recognition of outstanding work with pre-school children in a group setting. The credential was awarded by the CDA Credentialing Commission, which is working to improve the quality of care provided for youngsters in child care centers. The Commission represents the early childhood profession through its member national organizations.

Every candidate for the CDA Credential is assessed by a team of four persons including three from the local community. The team members observe the candidate working with children and evaluate the caregiver's competence in six areas. These range from establishing and maintaining a safe and healthy learning environment to advancing the child's physical and intellectual growth.

In an age when both parents of an increasing number of children are working outside the home, finding an environment in which children will receive more than basic maintenance has grown in importance. CDA assures parents that the credentialed caregiver is capable of providing competent and nurturing care.

Parents and caregivers interested in the CDA program should

Business Courses

Learn about the international business world through a series of courses to be offered through Central Piedmont Community College (CPCC) beginning this fall.

"At one time, we only had to be concerned about the community in which we live," said Larry Harman, adjunct instructor for the program. "Today, we have been thrust into a world market and we are part of an international marketplace whether we know it or not."

"Economics of International Trade," "Export Transportation Management," and "International Banking" will be taught this fall at CPCC, along with "International Relations" or "Geography."

A wide variety of conversational foreign languages also are taught, including Arabic, Hindu, Persian, Mandarin Chinese, German, Italian, or Russian.

Registration begins August 29 for classes beginning October 1. A complete schedule of courses will appear in the Sunday, August 25, issue of the Charlotte Observer. For details on CPCC's International Business Programs, call Harman at 373-6796.
