"Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous," airing October 27 at 7 p.m. on WSOC-TV, Channel 9, will highlight a visit to the haunted mansion of Engelbert Humperdink and an unprecedented look to the richest man in Europe.

On this incredible star studded edition of "Lifestyles," Engelbert Humperdink talks about the Jayne Mansfield he knows. Engelbert lives in Jayne's former mansion and takes long swims in her heart shaped pool. Engelbert tells "Lifestyles" that he has encountered Jayne's ghost on the stairs of her former home.

Never before have American cameras pierced the royal privacy of the palace of Prince Von Thurn Und Taxis, the richest man in all of Europe. The German palace is the largest and one of the three most incredible, private residences in the world. Now "Lifestyles" brings all of the majesty to American television.

The popular Runaway With The Rich And Famous segment travels with Billy Dee Williams to the exotic Orient.

Then it's on to London for an exclusive first-hand look with Jill Ireland at husband Charles Bronson filming his latest movie.

"Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous" airs Sunday, October 27 at 7 p.m. on WSOC-TV, Channel 9.

Marsalis' Concert Rescheduled

Jazz and classical trumpeter Wynton Marsalis, originally scheduled to appear in concert at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte Sunday, will perform Friday, October 25, instead.

Marsalis, who asked to reschedule the concert, will perform two shows at UNCC—at 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. in McKnight Auditorium.

Tickets are $6 for students and $8 for the general public. Tickets are on sale at UNCC's Candy Shoppe from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., weekdays.

Those who had purchased tickets for the original show may exchange them for the new date or a full refund. Call 597-2521 for clarification.

The Marsalis concert is one of several events of the annual Jazzing III program at UNCC. The Loois McGlohon Trio will perform at 7 p.m., October 24, in McKnight Auditorium, following a lecture at 12:30 p.m. by McGlohon; Flight 108 will perform in Cone Cafeteria at noon October 25; Barbara Howse-Meadows will present a program on Jazz aerobics at noon October 26, followed by a 1 p.m. concert by Catchin' On, both in the Lucas Room of Cone Center; and the UNCC Jazz Ensemble will perform at 3 p.m. October 25 in McKnight Auditorium.

For more information, contact the University Program Board at 507-2521 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., weekdays.

WDAV's Lone Arranger To Appear At Lollipop Concert

The Lone Arranger, crusader for WDAV (89.9 FM) and its classical music service, will make a special appearance at the Charlotte Symphony Orchestra's Lollipop Concert on Saturday, October 26, at 10 a.m.

The concert's theme is Halloween, so the masked man will feel right at home with the ghosts and goblins who come to enjoy the music of Offenbach, Grieg, Berlioz and others.

"The 'William Tell Overture' is on the program," said the Lone Arranger,

"and I can't miss a chance to hear my favorite piece of music. In fact, it's always been my dream to conduct a full orchestra in this piece. Maybe....."

Associate conductor Jordan Tang, at the podium for the Lollipop Concert, has been alerted about the Lone Arranger's ambition to conduct the "William Tell Overture," and is prepared for anything.

The Lone Arranger has been showing up in symphony and opera program booklets this fall, as well as on billboards around Charlotte. This crusader for classical music is actually Dr. Robert Manning, a physics professor at Davidson College with a great sense of humor. Manning has generously given his time and talents to increase awareness of the college's classical music service, especially leading up to the station's annual radiothon, "Celebration 85," October 27 through November 3.

Dr. Manning is not new to performing, having amassed many credits over the years with the Davidson Community Players, and with his own students as he helps to bring to life of the colorful figures in our cultural history.

WDAV is a listener-supported public radio station, broadcasting classical music and cultural arts programming 19 hours a day as a service of Davidson College. For membership information, write WDAV radio, Davidson College, Davidson, N.C. 28036, or call 892-1908.
