

North Carolina Mutual
Names Nowlin Charlotte
District Manager

See Supplement

Conference To Discuss
Critical Issues Facing
Male Adolescents

Story On Page 15A

Alston

NOW SERVING
CABARRUS AND ROWAN
COUNTIES CHARLOTTE AND MECKLENBURG COUNTIES
CHARLOTTE, N. C. 28202

NOV 22 1985

THE CHARLOTTE POST

"The Voice Of The Black Community"

YOUR BEST
ADVERTISING MEDIA
IN THE LUCRATIVE
BLACK MARKET
CALL 376-0496

Volume 11, Number 25

THE CHARLOTTE POST - Thursday, November 21, 1985

Price: 40 Cents

Attractive Sandra Hoey
.....An Opex Operator at Wachovia

Sandra Hoey Concentrating On Going Back To School

By Jalyne Strong
Post Staff Writer
Twenty-two-year old Sandra Hoey is this week's beauty. Currently, she's employed as an opex operator with Wachovia, however, Sandra is especially looking forward to completing a four-year degree in accounting.

"I enjoy my job," says Sandra, "it's pretty nice. But I'm really concentrating on going back to school."

Having earned two years of credits at Gardner-Webb College in Boiling Springs, NC, Sandra has plans to transfer to UNCC to finish her bachelor's degree requirements.

In the meantime, she enjoys working and spending her leisure time going to the movies, reading fiction and watching television. Sandra is also an accomplished seamstress. "I sew the majority of my wardrobe," she reveals. And, she likes to dabble in culinary delights. "I love to cook!" Sandra maintains. "I like to be creative especially with desserts." Her latest exotic creation was Hawaiian Pie and, according to Sandra, "It was very good." The lucky recipients of Sandra's treats are her family members. "The more I cook, the more they eat," Sandra smiles.

She's the oldest in her family with one brother, Chris, who's 21 and a sister, Beverly, 14. "I like being the older sister," assures Sandra. "It does carry a lot of responsibility," she admits. She points out that she and her siblings are very close, especially she and her sister. "Even with the big difference in our ages we spend a lot of time together," Sandra notes.

This week's beauty says she considers herself, her brother and her sister successful children and she assures that all the credit goes to her mother, Beulene. "She has accomplished a vital task, raising the three of us with no help at all," claims Sandra. "She's made quite an impression on me."

Quiet and easygoing is how Sandra describes herself. "If there's a crowd, I'm the type who'll stand back and let everyone else talk," she remarks. Her shyness keeps her pretty close to home, she comments, "I don't like going out too much, except maybe to restaurants."

Sandra also confesses that's she not ready to move out on her own yet. "I don't believe I'm stable enough yet," Sandra reveals.

"Take life one step at a time," this young lady relates as one of the greatest lessons she's learned so far.

Attorney Chamblee Explains Options

Organization Of New Business Has Important Consequences

By Audrey C. Lodato
Post Staff Writer
According to Charlotte attorney Gary D. Chamblee, a partner with the law firm Berry, Hogewood, Edwards & Freeman, P.A., choosing the form your business will take is one of the first decisions you, as an entrepreneur, have to make. Chamblee contributed the chapter on organization to the Chamber of Commerce book "Resources for Making It Big In A Small Business."

The basic choices for organizing your business are sole proprietorship, partnership, and corporation. Explains Chamblee, "A sole proprietorship is an unincorporated business owned and managed by a single individual. It is the easiest and least expensive way to get started, requires no formalities, and is the most basic form of doing business. However, where more than one person is involved in the ownership of a business, the sole proprietorship form is unavailable." One choice that is available is a general partnership. Here again, North Carolina does not require any special filing to create such a

The Mayfield Memorial Baptist Church will observe its annual Senior Citizen's Day on Sunday, November 24. The observance will stress the love, appreciation, and gratitude that the church fellowship as a whole has for those whom God has allowed to be blessed with longevity of life here on this earth.

At the 11 a.m. corporate worship service, the Senior Citizens will sit in a designated area of the sanctuary where they will be honored and recognized. The morning message will be delivered by The Rev. Doctor D. A. Costner, retired pastor and educator. Dr. Costner, himself a senior citizen of more than 88 years of age, will electrify and illuminate the hearers as he talks and reminds us all of the goodness of the Lord and the expectations of the Lord for even his citizens who have been allowed to stay upon this earth for more than three-score years.

Mayfield Memorial Baptist Church has always had a tender and sensitive concern for the elderly. So acute was and is this feeling and desire that the congregation, in 1977, applied for and was granted a loan of $3 million from the federal government (HUD) for the erection of 150 units of housing for the elderly and handicapped citizens of our county and state. Because of the failure to find a suitable site for the erection of the complex, the loan was cancelled. With the dream still a hopeful part of their expected accomplishments, the Mayfield Memorial Fellowship continued to strive and hope for the building of these units or similar housing for those who are so desperately in need and who are many times so grossly neglected. In 1983, the Mayfield Memorial Apartments, Inc., a corporation formed and controlled by the Church Fellowship, applied again and was granted a loan of $2 million for the erection of 60 units of housing for the elderly and handicapped. These units are now a realization and to see senior citizens and or handicapped citizens moving about the complex is a dream come true. This complex, known as Mayfield Memorial Apartments, is located on an 8.4 acre tract of land located on Oneida Road just off Graham Street. The apartments are built around a 2-acre lake which will be stocked with fish for the fishing enjoyments of those who reside in the complex. The apartments are one bedroom units, with specially built units for handicapped citizens. The rent for the units is subsidized by the Federal Government in order that those who cannot afford to pay the full amount of the rent might have the ability to reside in the newly-built apartments on the income that they are receiving.

Dr. H.S. Diggs
.....Corporation president

Architect for the Apartments is Clinton E. Gravely and Associates,

It's Official, Now!

"D.G." Getting Ready To Run Again

By Audrey C. Lodato
Post Staff Writer
Charlotte attorney D. G. Martin, who last year lost to Alex McMillan in the 9th Congressional race, is gearing up to run in 1986 for the same seat.

Although his name has been tossed around for the Senate seat being vacated by John East, the House is where Martin's heart appears to be.

"I promised I would never say 'never,' but it looks like we're getting together a pretty good field of candidates" for the Senate,

Inc. of Greensboro, NC. Consultant for the project is D. L. Bram & Associates, Inc. of Greensboro, NC. Manager of the apartments is Phoenix Management Services of Raleigh, NC. On-site manager of the housing complex is Mrs. Diane Nelson of Charlotte, NC. This complex will be dedicated on Sunday, November 24, 1985 at 4 p.m.

The public is invited to share in the morning worship and the dedication of the apartments.

The Corporation members are:

Dr. H.S. Diggs, President; James T. Hamlin, Vice President; John T. Massey, Secretary; Assistant Secretary, Geraldine Lowry; Roosevelt Gooden, Treasurer. Other members of the Corporation are: Lula Bell, Lester Trapps, Vertina Cooper, Wyatt Roseboro, Diane Johnson, Ben Worthy, Thomas Sadler, William Hubbard, Tommie Sadler, and William Sealey. These persons meet regularly and are totally responsible for the operations of the apartments. The complex was built and will be operated by the rules, guidelines, and agreements of HUD and the corporation.

Senior citizens and or physically handicapped persons interested in living in the apartments should contact Mrs. Diane Nelson at 596-6612 or visit the office at the site on Oneida Road between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

Sunday's celebration will conclude with a Feast of Thanksgiving being held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Again, the senior citizens of Mayfield Memorial will be the honorees at the banquet. This feast is given each year by Pastor and Mrs. H.S. Diggs as a way of thanking God and the people of Mayfield for their love, confidence, and cooperation during the past year.

Each first and third Wednesdays at 5 p.m., the Extra Years of Zest Fellowship, an organization of and for senior citizens of the church, meets and has fellowship, fun, and activity to help make their lives

See MAYFIELD On Page 5A

D. G. Martin
.....Enter Congressional race

Martin remarked. "I would have to turn around to decide to run."

The race for the House of Representatives, however, is another matter. "It's time to begin running for Congress again," he admitted.

In '84, Martin lost by only 321 votes out of a total 215,000. D. G. put it a particularly graphic way: "If one vote was different in every precinct, it would have gone the other way."

The candidate-to-be plans to run the same kind of campaign he did before. "I've been pretty proud of the race we ran," he stated, "and of the tremendous volunteer effort that we had."

His emphasis will remain the same: "a positive notion of what the country should be doing rather than a negative campaign attacking McMillan."

The same differences that existed between the two continue to exist, Martin added. He believes one area of potential vulnerability may arise if McMillan elects to accept PAC money again. "Many people don't like that kind of campaign," Martin asserted.

Filing dates for the 1986 election are in January and early February. The primary, if there is one, will be in May. If there is no primary, campaigning can wait until summer, Martin stated.

"I don't know of anybody now who's planning to run, but it would be presumptuous to say I don't anticipate anybody running," he added.

His next campaign may target areas with swing voters, those who may vote either way. More important, though, will be to "identify areas where there is potential support and encourage the people to vote." Typically, off-year elections, as '86 will be, bring out fewer voters than do presidential election years.

There is still a campaign debt remaining from the last race, but "it's not overwhelming in relation to what we spent," Martin noted. There will "probably" be a big fund-raiser next year to clear it up," he said.

The attorney's family is still recovering from his first attempt to win the Congressional seat. "All three of them made tremendous sacrifices," he explained, "but they seem to be either resigned to my running again, or enthusiastic, depending on which day it is." Martin's family includes his wife, Harriet, son, Grier, and daughter, Mary.

Grier, a junior at West Charlotte, has become active in the Teens Dem Club. "I like to think the campaign opened his mind," D. G. smiled.

Meanwhile, the probable candidate is "trying to practice a little law." He's with the Charlotte firm, Kennedy, Covington, Lobdell, and Hickman. He's also writing a chapter on federal regulations, his specialty, for a book entitled, "The Law and Business of Resort Development."

Martin is active in the North Carolina Bar Association and serves on a special committee on minorities and the law, which is co-chaired by Charlotte attorney Yvonne Mims Evans.

He is involved on the Human Services Board of the United Way and is on the search committee at See D.G. On Page 19A

TURTLE-TALK

Let today's concerns be the past with understanding and the future with understanding.