 Military science professor
Charlottean Is
Armed Forces Day
Guest Speaker

Armed Forces Day will be observed Sunday at the Metropolitan AME Zion Church in Monticello with special services at 11 a.m.

Cpt. Robert Weeks, assistant professor of military science at the University of Arkansas at Monticello, will be the guest speaker.

During the service, special recognition will be given to those presently serving in the Armed Forces and those who are veterans. The service will also commemorate those who died while in service to their country.

Weeks, a native of Charlotte, entered the Army in May 1978. His military assignments have taken him from Oklahoma to North Carolina to Korea and he has been awarded the Meritorious Service Medal, the Army Commendation Medal and the Senior Parachutist Badge.

He assumed the duties at UAM on September 9, 1985, following an assignment at the Field Artillery Officer Advance Course at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Weeks received the bachelor of science degree in health and physical education from Winston-Salem State University in North Carolina. His military schooling includes the Field Artillery Officer Basic Course, the Field Artillery Target Acquisition Survey Officer Course and the Field Artillery Officer Advance Course.

Weeks is the son of Mrs. Grace Weeks, 4020 Broadview Dr., and the late Mr. Clarence Weeks.

CPCC

Expands Electronic Technology Program

Training at the Computer-Aided Drafting (CAD) Center will expand during the winter quarter at Central Piedmont Community College (CPCC).

Beginning in January, electronic engineering technology training at CPCC will include the layout and design of printed circuit boards on CAD equipment. Printed circuit boards hold the different electronic components and interconnecting wiring in electronic equipment such as computers. Students will learn to draw electronic schematic diagrams using CAD equipment and then convert schematic diagrams to a printed circuit board format.

Cost of the course is $1,000. For details, call Gerry Davis at 373-6479 or 373-6557.

Other CAD courses to be offered during winter quarter at CPCC include structural drafting, mechanical computer-aided drafting, and architectural computer-aided drafting. CPCC's CAD Center contains small, medium, and large CAD systems for use in a wide range of applications.

Registration for new students will be December 9-12.

Mark Livingston

Airman Mark L. Livingston, son of Liston and Barbara A. Livingston of 3220 Graymont Dr., Charlotte, has been assigned to Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado, after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the supply field.

He is a 1985 graduate of Myers Park High School, Charlotte.
