

THE CHARLOTTE POST "The Voice Of The Black Community

YOUR BEST ADVERTISING MEDIA IN THE LUCRATIVE BLACK MARKET CALL 376-0496

Volume 11, Number 35

THE CHARLOTTE POST - Thursday, January 30, 1986

Price: 40 Cents

Democrats Schedule Workshop

NOW SERVING

The North Carolina Democratic Youth Council will hold its biennial winter seminar February 1 at Meredith College in Raleigh. The seminar includes workshops in cam-paign organization; publicity, fund raising and membership for youth organizations; get-out-the-vote and yoter registration. The luncheon speaker will be Senator Paul speaker will be Senator Paul Simon (D-IL).

North Carolina Young Demo-North Carolina Toung Demo-crats President Kathy Wilson said she expects over 400 Democrats to participate, "For the first time, young Democrats, including Teen Dems, College Dems, and YDs, will be assigned specific roles in tar-geted congressional and legislative races. We're getting ready to do our

Wilson expressed appreciation for the Democratic leaders who are supporting the seminar. Attorney General Lacy Thornburg is provid-ing a continental breakfast from 9 10 a.m. before the seminar begins at 10 The North Carolina Democratic congressional delegation and Demo sponsoring a luncheon at noon. Lieutenant Governor Bob Jordan is hosting a reception from 5-7 p.m. Due to the support of these Demo-cratic candidates and officehold-ers, all events are free to seminar mathematic participants.

College Democrats President James Vann said that there was much enthusiasm about the lunch-eon speaker, Illinois Senator Paul Simon. "Senator Simon has led the fight to protect college loans and grants, and he has always involved

Iesha Gist Spends Fun

Time Shopping At Eastland

By Jalyne Strong Post Staff Writer

Fourteen-year-old, Iesha Gist is this week's beauty. An eighth grade student at J. T. Williams Junior h School, she's a member of the Eighth Grade Chorus; an assistant to her physical education teacher and she plays junior varsity girls' basketball. Iesha has played basketball since she was in the seventh grade at J. T. "I went out with a friend and liked it, so I stayed," she recalls of her first experience with the game. Her po-sition is forward and "shooting from the free throw line" is the best part of the game to lesha. "It's the easiest shot to make," she admits with a smile. Iesha informs, J.T. Williams girls' varsity has won two games and lost four. But who's counting? This young lady also enjoys the sport when she's not in school. "I play with friends at Sugaw Creek Park sometimes," she tells. The toys give the girls respect on the courts - in a way, according to tesh "But then again they don't," is to courter. "They find some of the tings we do to be funny. Such as, walking all the time and playing with "she counters." They find some of the tings we do to be funny. Such as, walking all the time and playing with "she counters." They find some of the fings we do to be funny. Such as, walking all the time at Eastland Mail for shopping. Iesha says she likes buying shaker sweaters and stretch pants. "Sometimes." This week's beauty also likes to go to the movies and walk around her reighborhood visiting friends. "Her musical enjoyment is provided by New Edition; "They're to toce." of Whitney Houston. These days, this young lady is weighing the options of a career in modeling or one in architecture. "T ike clothes and have been told my small size would be good for modeling," lesha relates as her assets for a fashion job. As for architecture. This young lady also enjoys the sport when she's not in school. "I ture, Iesha says, "I want to be able to do blueprints." Her dream is to build her own home, one which is 'sort of big with plenty of windows." Describing herself as "quiet at times and sometimes wild."

Jacob: Economic Recovery Fails To Reach Blacks

The present economic recovery has failed to reach black America where the income level now is lower than it was at the start of the 1980 recession leaving it in the grips of the most severely depressed economic condition of the past-war period, John E. Jacob, President of the National Urban League (NUL), declared here last week as he released the NUL's annual report on the status of blacks, "The State of Black America-1986.'

Speaking of the mood within black America, Mr. Jacob said:

"There is a growing movement within this community that emphasizes doing more for ourselves. And it is not a movement of despair, but rather one of high hopes borne out of the conviction that while we cannot change some circumstances, there are many things that we can do to set our house in order.

Mr. Jacob pointed to growing community activities in the areas of teenage pregnancy, education, crime and the plight of femaleheaded households, but he also warned that there are clearly definable areas in which govern-ment assistance is "indispensible such as hunger, poverty and unem-ployment." He added:

"A major challenge in the coming year will be to reorder national priorities, for we can't allow people to suffer more-they've already been driven to the wall by earlier cuts in survival programs that helped increase poverty and hunger in this

John Jacob

.....NUL president education, training and work com-ponents; (2) a Universal Employment and Training System that would guarantee the unemployed productive work and the skills training necessary to obtain and hold a job; and (3) the establishment of a full employment policy that would have a multitude of elements including macro-economics policies and tax reforms that stimulate expanded economic activity and encourage maximum use of the less skilled and educated workers.

Describing the Reagan Administration's civil rights record as "voodoo civil rights," he said that administration in more than half a century.'

This year's edition of "The State of Black America" contains eight papers prepared by outstanding experts in their fields. The papers and authors are:

"The Case For Social Policy," Dr. Bernard E. Anderson, Visiting Fellow at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University; "National Housing Policies and Black America: Trends, Issues, and Implications," Professor John O. Calmore, Associate Professor of Law, North Carolina Central University, School of Law; "The Black Middle Class: Past, Present and Future," Dr. Robert B. Hill, Visiting Professor of Sociology at the University of Pennsylvania; "Teenage Pregnancy: The Implications for Black Americans," Dr. Joyce A. Ladner, Professor of Social Work, Howard University. "Beyond Civil Rights," Dr. Glenn

C. Loury, Professor of Public Policy at the John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University; "Equity and Excellence: An Educational Imperative,' Dr. Charles D. Moody Sr., Professor of Education and Director of the Program for Educational Opportunity, and the Center for Sex Equity in Schools. University of Michigan; "Political Choices: A Realignment in Partisanship Among Black Voters," Dr. Dianne M. Pinderhughes, Assistant Professor of Political Science and Afro-American Studies and Research Program, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign; "Economic Status of Blacks 1985," Dr. David H. Swinton, Director, Southern Center for Studies in Public Policy, Clark College.

young people in his campaigns," said Vann. "He's probably one of the smartest people in Washington. It's a great opportunity to get to meet. him and hear him talk."

For more information about the seminar, call Harry Kaplan at 919-821-2777.

Golden Bulls Face

Winston-Salem State

Saturday

The Bulls are on the road Saturday at Winston-Salem State in a 7:30 p.m. hookup with the Rams. The Rams are on top of the Southern Division and have emerged as a top challenger to the Bulls and St. Augustine's.

The Bulls are led in scoring by Dante Johnson 19.0; Vincent Brown 15.9; Jeff Erwin 11.1; Rodney Richardson 9.0; and Reggie Moses

Vincent Brown is one of the lead-ing three point shooters in the CIAA with 17 of 28 including a fine four of five performance at St. Augustine's. The leading rebounder for the Bulls is Dante Johnson with 9.1 per th 5.5 per game. The leading field goal shooter on the team is Jeff Erwin with a 62.0 percent average.

Vincent Brown is leading in assists

appiness makes up in height what it lacks in length.

Election Board Meets

the set of the set of

y. nal information or ase contact William B.

3

says the best thing about being 14 is "being able to get boy phone calls." Laughing, she reveals that she spends a lot of her time thinking about "school and boys."

Yet, lesha's mother has nothing to worry about, she's still her daughter's favorite person. Iesha admires her mother, Caroline, she notes, "because she holds a job and takes care of her family and it doesn't bother her at all.'

Iesha's siblings are Tanica, 12, and Mike, 17. A middle child, this week's beauty says the position suits her fine. "I would have liked to have had an older sister, though," she confesses.

lesha attends New Hope Baptist Church.

rich land.'

To deal with unemployment--and specifically black male unemployment which Mr. Jacob said has had a "devastating" effect on black America-he proposed (1) the establishment of a National Youth Employment Program that includes

while professing to be supportive of civil rights, the Administration has shown by its deeds that it is actually against civil rights and deserves the observation of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights that it has "the worst civil rights record of any

Special Service Planned For Visually Impaired

Duke Power Company this week announced a special service for the visually impaired.

"From January 27, customers who are visually impaired will be able to receive billing information and valuable energy saving ideas printed in Braille," said Fred West, vice president for Duke's Charlotte division. "This service, called Energy Information in Braille, will be available at no cost to the customer."

Customers who participate in this program will continue to receive their regular bill, which they will use for payment purposes. Two to three days after they receive their regular bill, the customer will receive billing information and a copy of Currents printed in Braille. Currents is a Duke Power publication that provides customers tips on how to save energy and hold down costs. It is included with monthly bills. Other special materials or announcements mailed to Duke Power customers during the monthly billing process will also appear in Braille

Right Rev. Ruben Speaks Is CMF Guest Speaker

By Jalyne Strong Post Staff Writer

<text><text><text><text><text>

ment can be made upon arrival.

Dr. H. S. Diggs

Local church choirs will provide

Local church choirs will provide music for the worship services. Bishop Speaks is recognized as one of the nation's leading scholars and sermonizers. He was born in Lake Providence, Louisians, where he received his earliest training. Later, he received his A.B. degree from Drake University, Des Moines, lowa, his master's of divinity de-gree from Drew Theological Se-minary, Madison, N.J., and S.T.M. degree from Temple University, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Bishop Speaks served as an instructor of Systematic Theology at Hood Theological Seminary, Livingstone College, Salisbury, N.C., and has pastored a few of the major churches of the AME Zion denomination.

æ

Bishop Ruben SpeaksSeminar instructor

denomination. In 1972, he was elected the 76th Bishop of the AME Zion Church and for eight years served as presiding Bishop in West Africa. A regular contributor to several religious journals, Bishop Speaks has also authored the following books: "Higher Catechism for Ministers and Lay Leaders," "The

1

Rev. George C. GoodmanHost pastor

Minister and His Task," "The Church and Black Liberation,' 'God in an Age of Scarcity," and "Prelude to Pentecost: A Theology of the Holy Spirit."

Additionally, he is affiliated with Additionally, he is affiliated with many religious and civic organiza-tions including the Greater Com-munity World Methodist Council, World Council of Churches, Na-tional Academy of Arts and Sci-ences, the National Council of Churches, and the NAACP. He is chairman of the Overseas Mission Board of AME Zion Church.