

Jazz Benefit

Want to beat the winter weekend blahs? "Sunday Jazz at the Park," the Charlotte Jazz Society's gift to Charlotte, will begin at 3 p.m. Sunday, March 9, at Beau's at the Park Hotel. Seven local jazz groups will donate their services to benefit the Jazz Society's scholarship and promotion fund.

Bands scheduled include Flight 108, the UNCC Jazz Ensemble under the direction of John Harding, the Seventh Street Band with Maria Howell, Michael Porter and Sweet Dreams, Jon Rodgers' Expressions, Jim Brock's new band, and E.T.C. with Ron Brendle - everything from big band to Latin to fusion jazz.

There will be a cash bar and hors d'oeuvres provided by the Park Hotel. Tickets are $3 in advance and $5 at the door ($3 for members). As an incentive to join, the Jazz Society will apply $2 of the $5 ticket price toward membership for those who join March 9.

Advanced tickets are available through the Jazz Society, and at Jonathan's Uptown, Shazada's on Trade Street, New World Records on Providence Road, Ernie's Records on Park Road, Camelot Records on Independence Boulevard and in Pineville, and JaJo's in Gastonia.

Metalsmithing Workshop

A weekend workshop for metal sculptors, jewelers and others interested in working with metals is scheduled for February 28 through March 2 at Central Piedmont Community College.

Hot and cold forging, metal selection, raising and sinking, filing and grinding, and mixing metals are a few of the areas to be covered in the $6.25 workshop.

"Artists and metal-smiths should come prepared to share ideas and learn from each other, no matter what their level of skill and talent," said CPCC art instructor Dempsey Calhoun, who will lead the workshop.

"Beginners, advanced students, even established professionals will enjoy the experience and walk away with new knowledge and new ideas."

Calhoun, whose work is in the permanent collections of the Mint Museum of the N.C. Museum of Art, was a part of North Carolina's Visiting Artist program.
