Mrs. Fred Gibson, representing Delta Sigma Theta, she tied for first place; Krystal Amanda Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, representing Alpha Kappa Alpha, she placed second, Mr. Chippetta Hammonds (standing first left) is the father of Simaya Katie Hammonds (not pictured) representing Alpha Phi Alpha, she tied for first place. Profits raised through the contest, that was held at Greenville Center, will go to the Pan Hellenic Council's Honor's Scholarship program.

Troy Gaston To Spend One Month In Jordan

Troy Gaston of Charlotte has been selected to receive an internship scholarship to the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan for the summer of 1986. The scholarship involves a one-week internship in a business or government activity in Jordan and three weeks of academic instruction and trips to historical sites throughout Jordan.

Gaston is the son of Rev. Retoy and Mrs. Ada Gaston of Charlotte.

He is a senior at Livingstone College majoring in History. In addition to receiving the scholarship, Gaston is president of the Pre-Alumni Council at Livingstone and is an Honor Student ranked 15th on the Dean's List for fall 1985. Troy's twin brother, Tracy, is also on the Dean's List for fall 1985; he, too, is a senior at Livingstone majoring in Political Science.

The scholarship program is supported by special purpose grants from the Exxon Educational Foundation and from the National Council on US-Arab Relations and by general funds from the Islamic and Arabian Development Institute at Duke University. It is coordinated by the Islamic and Arabian Development Studies Institute at Duke incorporated with the Outreach colleges.

Project Director, Dr. Bruce Kuniholm, Associate Professor of History and Public Studies at Duke, will accompany the students in Jordan. He will be assisted by a staff member of the National Council on US-Arab Relations, who will be with the group in Jordan.

Gaston is delighted at being selected and anticipates it will be an educational and enjoyable month. This is the first year of the internship.
