

When it was announced that Prince would play London, England, for the first time in over three years, it rapidly became clear that the American had more than his share of British fans. Bus companies set up excursion fares to London towns as far as 250 miles away. And Wembley Arena, where Prince played a total of three nights, was swamped with over 200,000 requests for tickets. The quantity of the fans was as impressive as the quality. On one night, Sting and Rolling Stone guitarist Ron Wood jumped onstage with Prince to jam on "Miss You." On other nights,

Eric Clapton and Nile Rodgers jammed with Prince at parties after the show. And the concertgoers who didn't grab musical instruments included Phil Collins, Dire Straits, the members of Duran Duran, Al Jarreau, Thompson Twin Alanna Curry, Tears For Fears' Roland Orzabel, Godley and Creme assorted members of Queen, Dream Academy and many more. After London, by the way, Prince is playing dates in Holland, Sweden, France, Germany and Japan. In many of these countries, the appearances will be Prince's first.

One Visit Is All You Need

Mrs. T.M. writes: Someone has come between me and my boyfriend and we separated. We couldn't get along. I just couldn't hold him, no matter what I did. He was seeing another woman and I didn't think I would ever get him back, but I loved him and that's why I went to Sister Margo. Thanks to her and her prayers, we are married and very happy in our new home!
