

Thursday, January 29, 1987 - THE CHARLOTTE POST - Page 1B

College Football

Comes To

Wilmington

Fayetteville, NC - Floyd Palmer, president of the Wilmington Sportsmen's Club, announced the First Annual Port City Classic Football Game to be played between Fayetteville State University Broncos and Elizabeth City State University Vikings on Saturday, September 12, 1987, 2:30 p.m., at Legion Stadium in Wilmington, NC.

Taking college football to Wilmington has a threefold purpose: 1) To raise scholarship money for students who want to continue their education beyond high school; 2) To provide local residents an opportunity to enjoy a college football game and additional entertainment without having to travel a significant distance; and 3) To provide Wilmington with an opportunity to showcase itself over the Labor Day weekend by attracting alumni, fans and friends of both institutions. It is felt that the event will boost tourism and contribute to the area economy.

GOLDEN BULL

OF THE WEEK

Reginald Hughes Moses is known as the Native Son on campus because he is from Charlotte, NC. Reggie was the spark plug that pulled the Bulls from a 41-31 deficit at Bowie State.

He played only 24 minutes of the game, most in the second half and overtime.

But he hit six of nine shots and four of four free throws for 16 points.

Moses is one of the leading free throw shooters in the CIAA, hitting 95 percent of his shots.

Moses is a 6'3", 180-pound guard who was one of coach Robert Moore's highly touted recruits out of West Charlotte High School.

LADY BULL

OF THE WEEK

Sandra McCracken is the JCSU point guard. At Bowie State, she hit six of 14 and sank one of two free throws to lead the Lady Bulls. She had 13 points, seven assists and three steals.

She is the Golden Bull point guard from Southport South Brunswick High School. She is a senior who has tied the assist record set by Phil Flores in 1982.

Dante Johnson

Vincent Brown

Rodney Richardson

Upcoming Game Could Decide Title

By James Cuthbertson
Post Sports Writer

With an upcoming game with Winston-Salem State that could decide the Southern Division title of the CIAA, the Johnson C. Smith Golden Bulls find several team members at the top of the CIAA in several categories.

Dante Johnson is fifth in scoring with 21.3 per game. Vincent Brown is ninth with 17.5 per game.

Johnson is the third leading rebounder with 10.3 per game and is second in field goal shooting percentage with 62.9.

Chris Jones is third in field goal shooting percentage with 61.6. Rodney Richardson is fourth with 60.4 percent.

Richardson is third in free throw shooting percentage with 86 percent.

Brown is sixth in three pointers made with 2.4 percent.

Jones is first in assists with 6.5 per game. Rick McCormick is fifth in assists with 5.4 per game.

In team stats, the Bulls are second in scoring with 89.1 per game, eighth in rebounding with 41.3 per game, second in rebound margin with a plus 5.3 per game, seventh in three point percentage, 10th in three point defense and fourth in scoring margin with a plus 4.9 per game. Angela Hamilton is seventh in free throw shooting percentage with 67 percent.

Sharrion Beard leads the CIAA in three points made with .54 and 4.0 per game.

Beard has a three-point percentage of 45 percent.

Sandra McCracken leads the assist race with 8.4 per game. Beard has 5.3 per game.

The Golden Bulls and Lady Golden Bulls visit Winston-Salem for a game with the Rams at the Winston-Salem Coliseum on Saturday, January 31.

Barber-Scotia is the opponent on Monday, February 2. On Tuesday, February 3, the Bulls travel to Augusta, Georgia, for a game with Paine.

Local Entry Tags Tennis Team "Charlotte Heat"

Charlotte - The Charlotte Heat will be the name of the newest franchise in the national DOMINO'S PIZZA TEAMTENNIS league, team owner Bob Benson announced this week.

The nickname, the Heat, was chosen from among more than 2,000 entries in a "Name The Team" contest won by Carol Reese of 4704 Old Mill Rd., Gastonia. Reese, whose name was drawn from among three entrants who submitted the nickname, also had entered one of the four other names in the finals. Her other submission was the Rage, with the remaining finalists being the Finesse, the Pizzazz and the Smash.

In winning the contest, Reese received a trip to the 1987 U.S. Open in New York and a five-day vacation to stay at Kingston Plantation, a Myrtle Beach resort with a $3 million tennis facility. "I'm excited about the tickets and even more excited about Domino's bringing professional tennis to Charlotte," Reese said upon learning she had won the contest.

The Charlotte Heat will be part of a $400,000 national league that includes cities such as Boston, Miami, Chicago, San Antonio, and Los Angeles.

The league commissioner is Billie Jean King, and team owners include the Oakland Aces' Roy Eisenhardt, who owns the Oakland A's baseball team; the San Antonio Racquets' Leo Rose, part owner of the San Antonio

Spurs baseball team; and the Los Angeles Strings' Jeanie Buss. She is the daughter of Jerry Buss, who owns the Los Angeles Lakers and Pauley Pavilion.

Matches will be played in July and early August, with the Charlotte Heat having a chance to be featured in a league-opening match on ESPN if the team sells out its Olde Providence Racquet Club facility.

More than 2,000 of the stadium's 5,524 seats have already been sold, and owner Benson said only 250-500 seats will be sold at each match this summer.

WHERE THEY PLAY

CIAA

JANUARY 29
UDC at Winston-Salem
Livingstone at Shaw
Virginia Union at Norfolk

FEBRUARY 2
Elizabeth City at Bowie
Fayetteville at Winston-Salem

JANUARY 30
N.C. Central at Bowie State

FEBRUARY 3
St. Paul's at Virginia Union
Bowie State at Virginia State
Elizabeth City at UDC
Barber-Scotia at J.C. Smith
St. Augustine's at N.C. Central

JANUARY 31
J.C. Smith at Winston-Salem
Virginia State at St. Paul's
Barber-Scotia at Shaw
Fayetteville at St. Augustine's
N.C. Central at UDC
Elizabeth City at Norfolk
Virginia Union at Hampton

FEBRUARY 4
Hampton at Bowie
Shaw at Norfolk

MEAC

JANUARY 29
Central Florida at Bethune
JANUARY 31
UMES at S. C. State
Coppin State at Morgan State
Delaware State at N.C. A&T
Morgan State at Bethune-Cookman

FEBRUARY 3
Morgan State at Jacksonville
FEBRUARY 4
A&T at Coastal Carolina
UMES at Coppin State

UNCC's Keith Williamson (No.8) drives in for a break-a-way layup.

The 49er's Ronnie Bellamy (no. 23), muscles his way through and over two Jacksonville defenders, for a score.

Dan Flondke (No. 45) fires a jumper for UNCC as he is pressured by Jacksonville defense. In the end, UNCC suffered a loss against Jacksonville.