

The Sound Of The '60s And '70s Are Back

Whenever I hear the Dells sing "Always Together" or the Chirlites sing, "A Letter To Myself", I immediately stop whatever I'm doing. My mind flashes back to that era and somehow all of the words pour from my mouth. Believe it or not I can even remember what dance was in the groove back then. Now, tell me who doesn't hear the song "Stay" and fails to reminisce about his or her young love, slow dancing in the corner of the dimly lighted room.

The saying goes....."Good Things Come To Those Who Wait" and for those who identify with the above remarks, it seems like the waiting is over.

Nancy Cooper, General Manager of WPEG/WGIV recently announced that WGIV has joined hundreds of other radio stations nationwide in affiliating with Satellite Music Network.

This new format has already begun. According to Don Cody, "the program utilizes to the fullest the music that many of today's affluent adults grew up with. The music you thought you'd never hear again is back with Heart and Soul.....Sam Cooke, Wilson Pickett, The Drifters, Ben E. King, Otis Redding, Aretha Franklin, Stevie Wonder, plus the unforgettable sounds of Diana Ross and the Supremes, Smokey Robinson and the Miracles, Four Tops and the Temptations.

WGIV's station manager, Cal Thornton, stressed the Satellite Music Network is simply a live programming radio station. "This will give us the time and resources to strengthen our commitment to local news and information," he stated. "And we feel that the exciting, high quality music and personality programming of this format will attract a much larger audience for our many valued local advertisers."
