

Donald Alexander and his new wife Pam Jones (l) are on their way to Los Angeles thanks to the Sprite/WPEG Soul Train contest Donald won recently. When he filled out the trip registration form he was just passing the time away. Donald didn't really believe he'd win. Yet, while he was at work at Presbyterian Hospital WPEG's Skip Murphy was calling his name as the trip winner. At the time, Donald was a couple of weeks away from getting married. Now he and his wife have an expense paid honeymoon. The happy couple are shown here with Terry Peterson, a representative from Coca-Cola, the makers of Sprite.

Slug's Hosts Wine Festival To Benefit WFAE

Wine enthusiasts will have an opportunity to spend an afternoon sampling over 100 wines from around the world, discussing their preferences with wine makers and other experts, while benefitting WFAE, Charlotte's National and American Public Radio affiliate. Slug's Wine and Food Cellars and Slug's University Place will host an International Wine Festival Saturday, April 8, from 1-5 p.m. at Slug's University Place, just off Highway 29 at Harris Boulevard. This is the third year that Slug Claiborne, owner of Slug's, has arranged the festival, from which profits will go to WFAE 90.7 FM. The festival offers connoisseur and novice alike the chance to expand their experience and knowledge of wines from France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Australia and the United States. Guests at the festival will also have an opportunity to bid in an auction of rare wines and to enjoy a once-in-a-lifetime taste of some exceptional vintages. Slug's will offer each guest an engrave wine glass and a personal wine journal for recording their own preferences and comments. Tickets for the International Wine Festival are $25 per person, of which $10 is tax deductible. Reservations and information about the event are available at 704-547-1987.
