CARSON, WRIGHT MAKE HOF:

WRIGHT: Fort Valley State two-sport star earns fabulous 13-year career with the Dallas Cowbovs

Former South Carolina State and New York Giants defensive standout Harry Carson and former Fort Valley State standout and Dallas Cowboys offensive lineman Rayfield Wright were among a class of six players voted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in results announced on Super Bowl XL Sunday. Carson, a Florence. S.C. native in his 13th season of HOF eligibility, became the third former S.C. State player to be named to the Hall, joining the late Marion Motley and David

"Deacon" Jones. Carson, one of the best middle linebackers in the NFL during his 13-year career, was named to the Pro-Bowl nine times and was a two-time all-NFL selection and capped off his career as the leader and captain of the Giants' team that won the Super Bowl in 1987. At SC State, he was twice named the conference's defensive player of the year before being drafted by the Giants in the fourth round of the 1976 draft. Carson caused quite a stir last year when he asked the Hall of Fame to remove his name from consideration after failing several times as a finalist. Carson even stated he would not attend the induction ceremonies if he was selected. Carson was travelling in Hawaii when word came of his selection and said he would attend. "Obviously I will show up," said Carson Sunday. "The whole process sort of made me sour. But for me not to show up would be disrespecting all those people who really went to bat for me, who really thought I should be there." Wright, a native of Griffin, Ga., attended Fort Valley State on a basketball scholarship and but eventually found his way onto the Wildcats' football team where he starred as a tight end. He earned all-SIAC honors in both football and basketball. After being drafted by the Cowboys in the seventh round of the 1967 draft, he was used as a tight end, defensive tackle and offensive lineman before an injury to veteran Ralph Neeley allowed him to settle in as an offensive tackle. It was a position he would not give up. He went on to make six straight Pro Bowl appearances during his 13-year career, all with the Cowboys, was selected all-NFL four times and was named to the league's All-Decade Team of the 1970s. Wright, known as "Big Cat," played in five Super Bowls with the Cowboys winning titles in Super Bowls XI and XII. He was nominated for the Hall by the Veterans' Committee. Wright and Carson become the 20th and 21st players with black college roots to make the Hall of Fame. Wright is the first from Fort Valley State. The pair will be enshrined in August at ceremonies in Canton, Ohio

Hoops tournament time nears

CIAA basketball regular season and if you're looking for tickets for the 61st annual Tournament set for Feb. 27 thru March 4 at the new Bobcats Arena in downtown Charlotte, N.C., hope you know somebody that's got some for sale.

That's because as of Monday, Feb. 6, all the ticket booklets for the tournament, in the first year of a three-year run in Charlotte, are sold out according to Lisa Cox-Butler, the CIAA's director of finance and business manager who also serves as ticket manager for the tournament. Cox-Butler said the final books were sold at the conference office on Monday. She also said all CIAA member-institutions had reported all of their ticket allotments sold.

CIAA Commissioner Leon G. Kerry had said last week that there were some 2,500 upper level tickets still available. They're gone now. Cox-Butler said general admission tickets will be available at the arena for games on Monday thru Wednesday.

ClAA Assistant Commis-sioner. Geoff McLeod also said hotels in the Charlotte area are very scarce

Longtime baseball coach named JSU's new athletic director

Jackson State has selected longtime former baseball coach Robert Braddy to be its next athletic director. The announcement was made by JSU President, Dr. Ronald Mason Jr. Braddy, who was recently inducted into the SWAC Hall of Fame, served as the Tigers' baseball coach for 28 years. A 1964 JSU graduate, Braddy also served as the university's interim athletics director in 2000. He replaces Roy Culbertson who resigned last month. BRADDY "We are excited about the hiring of Coach Braddy," said Mason. "We have built our facilities, enhanced our academic support and fully funded all of our scholarships. But one piece was missing, and that was to reconnect athletics with the winning tradition make that connection than Coach Robert Braddy.'

Braddy is the winningest baseball coach in SWAC history with a 823-555-3 career record. Between 1973 and 2001, his teams won 12 SWAC championships, more than any other coach in league history. He guided the Tigers to three NCAA tournament appearances, two NCAA play-in games and four NAIA tournaments. Braddy was named SWAC Coach-of-the-Year nine times.

"It's a dream job." said Braddy, the first African-American to be inducted into the American Baseball College Association Hall of Fame in 2003, "There's a lot of work to be done, and I'm looking forward to the challenge. We're going to depend on alumni and friends of the university, as well as the business community. My goal is to bring Jackson State back to national prominence."

Braddy's first conference title came during his first season as JSU's head coach. His team won back-to-back titles in 1977 and 1978, and again in 1989 and 1990. He also won three consecutive SWAC titles from 1993-95. His other league championships came in 1980, 1982, 1986 and 2000.

Since Braddy's first season at JSU, 52 of his players have reached the professional ranks, including Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd, Marvin Freeman, Wes Chamberlain, David Clark and Curtis Ford. He produced two first round draft choices in Clark, an outfielder, (1983) and pitcher/outfielder Earl Sanders (1986). Before joining the Tiger athletics staff, Braddy coached at McLaurin High in Florence, Miss., where his team compiled a 64-14 record and won the Highland Conference championship four of the six years he coached. He spent one year as Florence High's coach.
