Pianos--Pianos--Pianos.

ATTENTION of purchasers is respectfully called to a new and gigantic invention in Pianos, now fully perfected, and before the public, known as HALL'S CELESTIAL DUOX-STRATO PIANO. The peculiarity of the CELESTIAL PIANO consists in its capacity for playing with the single finger, an attainment hitherto unknown to the Pianoforte.

The most ordinary performer is enabled by the aid of this improvement to produce effects in octavo playing that would confound a Talberg or a Liszt. One of its chief excellences is its capacity to be used as an ordinary Piano of the sweetest quality of tone, and is instantly changed by the use of a common pedal to a combination so thrilling and majestic, as to captivate and charm the heart. These instruments are superior in power to two ordinary 7 octavo Pianos, while for sweetness, purity, breadth, and richness of tone, they challenge the competition of the world.

This is the united testimony of Professors and Amateurs who have tested the Celestial Piano. Ordinary Pianos of all sizes, new and second hand for sale at reduced prices.

PROSPECTUS—1854-55.

THE GLOBE: The Official Paper of Congress, and Newspaper for the People.

Lord Brougham, in his "Historical sketches of Statesmen who flourished in the time of George the Third," gives some remarkable examples, showing the great loss sustained by England in the history of its statesmen, and of its national progress, through the imperfect state of parliamentary reporting in former times. He opens his life of Lord Chatham thus:—"There is hardly any man in modern times, with the exception, perhaps, of Lord Somers, who fills so large a space in our history, and of whom we know so little, as Lord Chatham; add yet he is the person to whom every one would at once point, if desired to name the most successful statesman and most brilliant orator that this country ever produced. Of Lord Somers, indeed, we can scarcely be said to know anything at all. That he was a person of unimpeachable integrity, a judge of great capacity and learning, a firm friend of liberty, but a cautious and safe counselor in most difficult emergencies, all are ready to acknowledge. But the authority which he possessed among his contemporaries, the influence which his sound and practical wisdom exercised over their proceedings, the services which he was thus enabled to render in steering the constitution safe through the most trying times, and saving us from arbitrary power without paying the price of our liberties in anarchy and bloodshed—nay, conducting the whole proceedings of a revolution with all the deliberation, and almost in the forms, of an ordinary legal proceeding—have surrounded his name with a mild yet imperishable glory, which, in the contrast of our dark ignorance respecting all the particulars and details of his life, gives the figure something altogether mysterious and wonderful. It was unfortunately too late, by supplying this information, to fill up the outline which the meagre records of his times have left us. But it is singular how much of Lord Chatham, who flourished within the memory of the present generation, still rests upon vague tradition. As a statesman, indeed, he is known to us by the events which history has recorded to have happened under his administration; yet even of his share in bringing these about little has been preserved of detail. So, fragments of his speeches have been handed down to us, but these bear so very small a proportion to the prodigious fame which he has acquired, and which has left behind it, that far more is manifestly lost than has reached us; while of his written compositions but a few letters have hitherto been given to the world.

"The imperfect state of parliamentary reporting is the great cause of this blank."
When Lord Somers and Chatham have lost in fame by the oblivion of all the masterly efforts of their minds, which, wielding the power of Parliament, conducted the march of the government during their connexion with it, the history of the nation has also lost for want of the vigor and verity, the clearness, the freshness, and beauty with which its events and their causes might have been preserved in the luminous eloquence of its orators.

The great man who conducted our revolutionary struggle in the great Continental Congress has left no history behind them of the views and events which had their birth in their debates, except in the meager formula of a journal. The fervid feeling of the hour, the impelling circumstances, the arguments of the most able representatives—the concerns of one frequently possessing no interest for the most part, and amidst the mass it is difficult for each section, or individual, to get at the special matter most interesting to them. To obviate this, and enable all to get a glance, a general view of the entire proceedings of Congress, and to direct their attention on what suits their interests, I will publish in future, in addition to the Daily Globe and the Congressional Globe and Appendix, a Tuesday's Congressional Globe, containing a brief of each day's debate on every important subject discussed during the preceding week, arranging the names of the speakers, and presenting the arguments on each side, somewhat in the mode in which forensic briefs are prepared. This paper I will send gratuitously to every subscriber to the Congressional Globe and Appendix; and to those who may consider their summary sufficient without them, the subscription price for this weekly will be two dollars per annum.

The brief synopsis of debates will fill but a small part of the contents of this weekly sheet. It will contain every important item of foreign and domestic news which can be gleaned from the daily prints during the week, together with such other news as may be brought to the notice of the editor of going to press. It will contain, besides, the interesting miscellany which is given in the Daily Globe, and the Washington gossip of the letter-writers, extracted from the different newspapers which employ them, whenever they shall be esteemed of sufficient importance to interest the readers of the Globe, and bear such probability on their face as to warrant their insertion.

As this weekly paper will be sent to all the subscribers for the Congressional Globe and Appendix, it will certainly have a more general circulation than any other newspaper in the United States, and will therefore be a most valuable medium from every section of the Union, especially the wholesale merchants in the great cities, which will give it additional interest and business every where.

The Daily Globe will be printed on a double royal sheet, twice a day during the sessions of Congress at eleven o'clock, a. m., and five o'clock, p. m., during the recesses at five dollars a year for either the morning or evening edition. The evening edition is the one most suitable for subscribers who live out of this city, as it will contain, besides the full proceedings of Congress of the day before publication, in the morning edition, a full and complete abstract, together with the news by telegraph; and from other sources, up to the hour that it is put to press. It will contain, also, all laws and joint resolutions passed by Congress. The Congressional Globe and Appendix will also be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form, royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages. The Congressional Globe will be made up of the proceedings of Congress, and the running debates as taken down by the reporters. The Appendix will contain messages of the President of the United States, the reports of the heads of the executive departments, such speeches as have been delivered by members of Congress for revision, and all the laws and joint resolutions passed during the session. A complete index will be made soon after Congress adjourns, and sent to all subscribers for the work. Should any numbers fail to reach subscribers, they will be sent to them without charge, whenever the number of subscribers who have not received them. Subscribers should be careful to file all the numbers received, as the complete work will be found to be very valuable to them, and the expense of furnishing missing numbers very expensive to me.

The debates of Congress are now as fully and as faithfully reported in the Congressional Globe as in the history of the legislative body are in this or any other country, and yet they are sold to subscribers for one-sixth of what any other debates are sold for in this country, and one-tenth of what the debates of the British Parliament are sold for in England. These paper, reports, type, and printing, are all sold at much cheaper rates than in this country. The liberal subscription by Congress enables me to sell the debates so low. And Congress, for the purpose of enabling the people to obtain them at as low a rate as they can be afforded, passed the following joint resolution, authorizing them to go free by mail:

Joint resolution providing for the distribution of the laws of Congress and the debates thereon.
With a view to the cheap circulation of the laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and constituent bodies:

Those who publish this prospectus should send a paper directed "Daily Globe, Washington, D. C.," so marked with a pen as to direct attention to it.

It is expected that those papers which published the prospectus for the last year, and have been receiving the Daily Globe therefor, and desire to receive it the coming year, will desire to employ agents, who can produce good recommendations, to obtain subscribers. JOHN C. RIVES.

THE AMERICAN'S FRIEND

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

To the Citizens of the United States: I most humbly and sincerely thank you for the immense patronage which you have bestowed upon my Pills. I take this opportunity of stating that my Ancestors were all American Citizens, and that I entertain for all that concerns America and the Americans, the most lively sympathies, so much so that I originally compounded these Pills expressly to suit your climate, habits, constitution, and manner of living, intending to establish myself among you, which I have now done, by taking premises in New-York.
THOMAS HOLLOWAY,
28 Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, New-York.

PURIFICATION OF THE BLOOD, AND LIVER AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS.

The Citizens of the Union suffer much from disorders of Liver and Stomach, scarcely any are free from the influence of these destructive maldies, hence life wears fast. The fair sex, perhaps the most lively sympathies, so much so that I originally compounded these Pills expressly to suit your climate, habits, constitution, and manner of living, intending to establish myself among you, which I have now done, by taking premises in New-York.
THOMAS HOLLOWAY,
28 Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, New-York.

A CASE OF WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY, OF 10 YEARS STANDING, CURED BY HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Copy of a Letter from Capt. John Johnson, Astor House, New-York, dated Jan. 5, 1854.

To Prof. HOLLOWAY, 38, Cor. of Ann and Nassau sts., N. Y. Sir: It is with the most heartfelt pleasure I have to inform you that I have been restored to health and strength by taking your Pills. For the last ten years, I suffered from a derangement of the Liver and Stomach, and was reduced to such an extremity that I gave up my Ship, never expecting to go to Sea any more, as I had tried every Remedy that was recommended me, but all to no purpose, and had been given up by my friends, when I was recommended to take your Pills. After using them for three months, the result is that I am now in better health than I have been for eleven years past, and indeed as well as ever I was in my life. You are quite at liberty to make this known for the benefit of others. I remain, sir, yours, respectfully,
(Signed) JOHN JOHNSON.

These celebrated Pills are wonderfully efficacious in the following complaints:—Ague, Debility, Head-ache, Scrofula, or Asthma, Dropsy, Indigestion, King's Evil, Blisters on the Female Liver, Constipation of the Stomach, Skin Eruptions, Rheumatism, General Ailments, Bowel Complaints, Fevers of all Kinds, Worms of all Kinds, Constipation of the Bowels, Retention of Urine, whatever cause. Sold at the Establishment of Prof. HOLLOWAY, 38, Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, New-York; also, by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the United States, in Boxes, at 37 1/2 cents, 57 cents, and $1.50 cents each. To be had Wholesale of the principal Drug Houses in the Union.

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger size. N. B. Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each Box. For sale in Wilmington by Dr. A. O. BRADLEY, Druggist and Chemist, Market Street.

FEVER AND AGUE.

DREDWARD BLEEKER'S STAMPEDE MIXTURE, FOR THE Fever and Ague, Chagres Fever, Dyspepsia and all Bilious Affections.

The Proprietor of this Medicine will state, without hesitation or fear of contradiction, that the Stamped Mixture has cured more persons where it has been introduced, than any other medicine in use for the above diseases. This medicine has neither Arsenic nor Quinine in its composition, all of the ingredients are of a perfectly healthy character, and highly stimulating and invigorating in their tendency. Persons while using this medicine will not be affected by exposure to water or a damp atmosphere no more than in their usual health. Plasters in sections of the country where the Ague prevails, will do well to adopt this medicine, as the patient is not obliged to lay by while under treatment, and they may be assured of a speedy cure. The Proprietor could introduce thousands of certificates from those of the highest respectability, but prefers saying to the sick buy one bottle and you will have the infallible proof in yourself.—Full directions for its use accompany each bottle.

Certificates can be seen at the office, showing where this Medicine has cured when all others have failed.

For Dyspepsia and all other Bilious Complaints, there is not a better Medicine in the market.

It has also been taken with the most astonishing success in several cases of Rheumatism and Gout; for these complaints take a table-spoonful twice a day.
