FOR PRESIDENT.

HON. JOHN BELL,

OF TENNESSEE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT. HON, EDWARD EVERETT.

OF MASSACHUSETTS.

JOHN POOL. OF PASQUOTANK.

FOR GOVERNOR.

NOTICE.

Hon. GEO. E. BADGER, one of the Electors of the Constitutional Union party for the State at large will address his fellow citizens at Wilmington, on Wednesday evening, 13th inst., at 8 o'clock.

Appointments.

Messrs. Pool and Ellis will address the people at the places and times named below. Speaking will commence each day at 11 o'clock.

Winston, Forsyth, Wednesday, Thursday, Yadkinville, Yadkin, Dobson, Surray, Gap Civil, Alleghany, Saturday, Jefferson, Ashe, Wilkesboro', Wilkes, Lenoir, Caldwell, Morganton, Burke, Marion, McDowell,

Friday, Monday, Wednesday. Friday, Saturday, Monday,

Hon. Geo. E. Badger.

The above illustrious statesman and orator arrived in this town vesterday and is the guest of one of our citizens. He comes to address the citizens of Wilmington and New Hanover county upon the important questions now before the people of the State. The weather, at this present writing appears ra-full attendance. Badger will speak to-night at Thalian Hall. The people know well enough who George E. BADGER S and what to expect from him. Therefore we anticipate seeing the large hall filled to repletion, and hope that all may hear his clear and able elucidation of the questions now before the people of the tend the boundaries of science in its various depart-State and the country at large.

Mr. Fillmore.

Simply because the Buffalo Commercial publishes an article in favor of Lincoln and Hamlin the idea began to prevail, and has been scattered broadcast by the Democrats, that Mr. Filimore's views were of the same kind; and further, that he would take the stump for those nominations All this the Commercial comes out and positively contradicts; averring that "it is entirely without foundation," and that of party conflict."

We are glad that the Buffalo Commercial has thuscome out and relieved Mr. Fillmore from any con- in the head and in the heart." nection whatever with its own course in supporting the Chicago platform and nominations. It has caused some regret and surprise among Mr. Fillmore's friends, that the disclaimer did not come sooner, inasmuch as it must have compelled him to answer

New York Express, in noticing this matter says:-"We felt assured from the beginning, that Mr." Fillmore could never have expressed any sympathy with a party or a platform, with candidates or an organization so purely sectional as is that which has taken both of its candidates from one section of the country, which was practically unrepresented by all the States south of the Poto nec, which has no bond of union upon any question unless it be in opposition to the institutions of nearly one half of the States of the Union."

Wonderful Dispatch.

The Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions opened in this town on Monday or the present week at 10 o'clock, A. M., and adjourned Tuesday, yesterday afternoon at 5, having disposed of about eighty cases on the civil, and one hundred or one hundred and twenty on the State docket-an exhibition of dispatch in the transaction of business hitherto unparalleled in the annals of New Hanover. Our friends from the country have disappeared with marvelous rapidity since the adjournment of Court. Wonder if it is owing to the grass in the crops, or the fact that Mr. Badger speaks to-night.

THE VACANCY UPON THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.-Since the decease of Judge Daniel, much interest has been manifested for the solution of the question who will be his successor on the U.S. Supreme Court bench. Three names have already been mentioned by the Washington papers in this connection, viz: The. Hon. Wiley P. Harris, and Judges Wm. L. Harriss and E. C. Handy, of the bar of Mississippi.

The N. Y. Times, in commenting upon Mr. Everctt's letter of acceptance, says his conservative policy "has strong attractions for calm, peace-loving, reflective natures, and will withdraw some men of such tempers from the pending strife." In other words, it is a policy which commends itself to every intelligent mind opposed to sectional discord, and in favor of the Union and Constitution as it is.

We have received from Mr. Geo. H. Kellev. a book entitled "Five Years in China," by Charles Taylor. It has a likeness of the late Emperor dressed in his gorgeous apparrel. From the glance that we have given it, we think it is a very interesting work, as it gives something of their manners and customs. We advise all to go and buy one .-The book is for sale at Mr. Kelley's. Price $1.25.

At the Thirteenth Annual Meeting of the American Medical Association, held in New Haven. Conn., on the 5th inst., we notice on a list of Committee on Nominations, the name of Dr. James H. Dickson of this town.

BENSON J. LOSSING is about starting on a tour to collect original sketches to illustrate his new "Field Book of the War of 1812," a work which will appear in about a year from the present time, as a companion to his "Field Book of the Revolution."

Richard Wallach, Esq., the defeated candidate at the late Mayoralty election at Washington has published a card stating that he purposes consesting he election with Col. Berrett, the successal candidate. 41

The receipts at the New York Post Office rose from $12,000 to $16,000 during the first week in which the Government officials took possession of the office. Fat stealing there.

Cha pel Hill.

The Fayetteville Observer contains an interesting account of the late commencement at Chapel Hill, written by one of the Editors of that paper, who was present. We would publish the whole but it is too long. We make some extracts, however, which will be found interesting. In noticing the speeches made on the occasion the writer says:

"These efforts were creditable to the young men. Some of them ranged far above medicarity. The calutatory and the Valedictory are always listened to attentively, especially when they are well conceived and well delivered, as they were at this time. Messrs. Wooster, Wilson, Pool, Bond and Weir received favoring criticisms that wer well deserved. Mr. Strong had already obtained th prize that was offered by the Editors of the University Magazine for the best contribution to its columns during the year. Indeed it was understood from their teachers that a large portion of this class had done its drty well while in College. About thirty of its members were communicants in various branches of the Christian Church.— If their conversation is worthy of their profession, a valuable seasoning for society has gone forth into its midst from the University. Be des these eighty recipients of Bachelor of Arts, the Senatus Academicus of the University conferred the degree of Science on the following graduates of the Scientific School, viz: J. T. Douglass, R. T. Hailey, J. A. Prudhomme, G. C. Smith and S. K. Watkins.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws was conferred on Messrs.

W. L. Alexander, J. W. Graham, S. S. Jackson and J. L. Steward.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred on Messrs. Alex'r Kirkland and Sidney Smith, who were members of

The degree of Master of Arts was conferred on Messrs.
R. W. Anderson, T. C. Belsher, Rev. A. D. Betts, R. Bingham, G. M. Durkin, E. J. Gaines, J. W. Graham, J. Guion, T. N. Hill, T. S. Kenan, J. E. Lindsay, J. E. Logan, R. H. Marsh, J. Manning, A. McLauchlin, J. C. McLauchlin, H. McMillan, C. H. Mitchell, H. Mullins, J. M. Richmond, J. L. Steward, D. Stewart, Jr., H. R. Thorp, J. Venable and Wilson, graduates of the University of three years standing. There were no honorary degrees conferred at

The Marshal for this Commencement was Mr. Joshua G. Wright of Wilmington. He was most efficiently supported by Messrs. Coffin, Nicholson, Van Wyck and Waker. The prompt and decided attentions of these gentlemen materially assisted to diffuse comfort to audiences collected in the University Chapel. Doubtless many who were suffering from the pressure and heat therein heartily wished that the Trustees had used some of the bricks are in ed that the Trustees had used some of the bricks now in the new buildings to render their own position more com-fortable. Nevertheless, North Carolinians should always regard a Commencement at their University as a time when all who can should gather at Chapel Hill, to refresh old acquaintances, form new ones, hail and inquire torold College mates, and welcome the young Alumni where the Fresh hope ere long to follow them.

Mr. Pool's address is said to have been a most ad mirable effort. "It chastely, concisely, clearly and pointedly set before the young people of the assembly not merely the advantages, but the indispensable necessity of a rigid training in intellectual exercises in order to the proper discharge of their duties in after life. Our country needs not so much men who have much learning as men who can use aright ther unpropitious, but we hope it will not prevent a what learning they have. This power over one's mental possessions can be secured only by a patient It is nnnecessary for us to say more than that Mr. | continuance in exercises of continuous thought and constant communion with the minds of the active and liberal thinkers of the world. Good books writ ten by great men are among the best companions with which a young man can surround himself. By their aid and incentives he will be encouraged to exments. So will virtue have free scope to manifest its principles and extend its life, and Liberty will diffuse its blessings over all the children of wrong

"Mr. Pool graduated at Chapel Hill in 1847 when President Polk visited the University. While a student he practiced what as "the Orator" he enjoined, and his marked success in life shows that his precepts were most proper, both in their philosophy and in their application. However much many of his audience may have differed from him as to the justice and value of an ad valorem tax on riches in Mr. Fillmore has "entirely withdrawn from the field the pocket and in the field, surely none of them would have doubted that a State was most, strong and most prosperous when its people enjoyed large revenues derived from an ad valorem on treasures

The publication of a vigorous campaign pa per in Washington, under the auspices of the National Union Committee, has been agreed upon .-The first number will be issued in a few days, and questions and write letters without number. The a large edition will be circulated in every section of the country, with the object of giving general publicity to the enterprise. The title of the paper will be the "Union Guard."

> The nomination of Lincoln and Hamlin does not seem to create much sensation at the North .-At Chicago, where Mr. Lincoln was personally known and popular, his nomination was greeted with pleasure and pride. Elsewhere, and even in the Northwest, it seems to be considered by the Republicans as a failure.

> The National Intelligencer hopes the work of the National Union Convention being now completed, and its nominess having accepted the positions assigned them, that the friends of the movement, throughout the country, will promote by all honorable efforts the good cause, which finds such worthy embodiment in the distinguished names of the eminent statesmen selected to be its standard

> > Our Sentiments.

We approve and endorse the sentiments uttered by the Charlotte Bulletin in the following extract. We say again that if yankees will steal negroes from Africa the government should not be forced to foot the bills for their return and sustenance after reaching there, and we denounce any law or principle that makes it incumbent upon Congress to do it. The government does not pay the owners for slaves which Abolitionists steal from the South. Why does not Mr. Buchanan have them returned in government vessels?

Congressional Swindling .- It will be seen, on reference to telegraphic advice from Washington, published in another column, that the House has appropriated the funds asked for to elothe, feed and educate the savages captured on board the Wildfire and taken into the port of Key West.

Such unblushing wasting of the public treasure such a high handed swindle upon the people of th South, who foot up the expenses of Government, cannot be too severely condemned.

There are tens of thousands of widows and orphans in America, who know not to-day, from whence they will receive their bread to-morrow, as well as laborious and respectable white girls, who, through misfortune, are compelled to make shirts at ten cents each, and slave at it from early morn until past midnight for a bare subsistence, and are almost faint with toil and for the want of proper food, are allowed to toil on and suffer, whilst a congregation of men known 13 Congressmen—a large number of whom are lazy, debauched and drunken profligates -squander away the funds of the Nation to educate. feed and clothe, at an enormous price, a few worth less savage Africans, not a whit better than the Ourang. Outang that inhabit their native forests. Such corruption ought to have an end.

A constable in Williamsport, Indiana, while paying a visit to a young lady living a few miles away, proposed a game of euchre as the evening's entertainment, which was accepted by the young lady. When the cards were dealt, the young lady proposed a "fiver" of $50, to which the constable demurred. The young lady protested that she would never play with a gentleman unless there was some stake up, but the gent still demurred, when, as a compromise, the lady proposed that they would play, and if she beat him he should marry her, which the gallant constable couldn't do otherwise than accept. At it they went, and the lady proved to be the winner. The constable was invited to stay all night. and in the morning they would proceed to the Squire's and be made one flesh. He plead pressing business, and went away. She followed him to his

To Persons Wishing to Settle in Western N. C. The beauties of our scenery, the excellence of our climate and the many other attractions of our mountain country are every year becoming more and more known and as they are known so increases the summer travel to this section. It is very evident that the accommodations which we present to visitors are not sufficient. The increase of travel demands more supply in this line and Hotels might be profitably erected at this place, at the Sulphur Springs, and at various points in this and the neighboring counties where beauty of scenery or the presence of some mineral water would attract the

But there are many who from various circumstances would prefer a home of their own. A neat little cottage, with a few acres of ground, commanding a fine view, wherein they could enjoy the comforts of home with less expense than at the Hotels. To such as merely wish a summer home without a change of scene every year our mountains present unrivalled attractions. Lands can be purchased at moderate rates-owing entirely to location, on streams or nearness to towns. Louses can be erected in any style as cheaply as anywhere and the means of beautifying grounds with evergreens and grasses are in no place more abundant. A person of taste with a moderate use of money can have here a summer residence which in refreshing beauty would rival any that adorn the Catskill Hills. Nature has supplied every means and it is only left for taste and industry to use them skillfully. The advantages arising to the Southerner who would thus have a permanent summer home, are many. It is pecuniarily a saving to him; and instead of the neated air and foul society of a Saratoga Hotel he has as pure an air and as fine a climate as can be found in the world. Again, he builds up a South ern people-men bound to him by all the ties of social and political economy. We are aware that to some the idea of a permanent home for the summer is but little inducement, as they would flit from place sipping the sweets as they go, but still many would rather find a pleasant summer home in our mountains than occupy a cottage at Cape May or ondure for six weeks the discomfort of a little room at Niagara, Saratoga or Newport.

To such as would seek a summer residence here we most heartily tender our services in giving any information as to beauty of location, of surrounding view, nearness to weter and in fact everything which would render a residence attractive and desirable. We will answer all letters with pleasure when a stamp is enclosed to pay return postage.

There is another class of persons who may be looking for a location in our mountain countrythose who wish to make it their home for summer and winter. To such it presents great attractions. There are two species of business-now hardly touched-at which any one can make fortunes The cultivation of flax and the raising of sheep. The two branches of business cannot be overdone. The adaptability of our mountain land for the culture of flax has again and again been laid before the public; and nothing is necessary to make sheep raising vastly profitable but care and attention. It is true that a man can engage in other branches of industry bere which will pay him or give a support, but in these he will be at present without competition and the golden harvest is sure.

To such persons we tender all information in our sell are disposed to place their character, location, &c., in our hands we may be able to benefit them .-Will our exchanges please notice this article. Western Advocate.

Supreme Court.

This Court commenced its summer term in this city on Monday last-Present, Richmond M. Pearson, Chief Justice, and W. H. Battle and Matthias E. Manly, Associate Justices. A class of fourteen young gentlemen applied for license to practice law in the County Courts of the State, and after a rigid examination, they were all admitted to the bar. We append their names :

Premium FOR FIRST BALE OF COTTON. Presented to

By WILLIAM H. OLIVER & CO., Newbern,

It is intended as a Premium to be presented to the Planter who produces the first bale (of not less than 300 pounds) of new Cotton which is sent to this market this season. It is really a beautiful thing, and reflects much credit on the taste of Mr. George F. Darden, who got it up, and on the liberal-

This is a move in the right direction; let premiums be offered to incite our Agricultural friends to increased exertions, and our word for it its good effect will hereafter be seen. Whose name is to fill the space left blank is a question which we think will be frequently asked. Let all our Cotton planters take an interest in it, as it is a premium well worth contending for.—Newbern Progress.

APPEARANCE OF THE HEAVENS .- The North-western sky last evening was rendered very brilliant by the proximity of the moon, the two stars, Castor and Pollux, of the first magnitude, and the bright planets Venus and Jupiter, and Saturn although more distant, was within 25 degrees—a juxtaposition of rare occurrence. Venus is now at the point of its greatest brilliancy; so that it can be seen at any of the extravagant fellow aspiring to wear stockings time during a clear day, with the aid of an opera and furred hats! O, the avarice, unreasonableness, glass, and by many persons, without. Its light is extravagance, of some folks !" indeed now so strong that it casts visible shadows after the evening twilight has disappeared.

The motion of the planet and of Jupiter during the next six weeks, in their race towards the sun, will be quite interesting. For a month or two the planets have evidently been approaching each other; hey will continue to do so until the evening of May 31st, when Jupiter will pass Venus about two degrees to the South, and will be six degrees west of it on the 20th of June; on that day the apparent motion of Venus towards the sun becomes more rapid than that of Jupiter, so that the former will overtake and pass the latter again (but this time Jupiter will be to the North) on the 7th of July, and will come into a line with the sun on July 18th, (the day of the solar eclipse), 11 days earlier than its great rival in the race.

Boston Traveller, May 25. From the Cincinnati Enquirer. Boots.

The Washington correspondent of the Louisville Courier tells the following: "The best thing, however, I have heard about Lincoln is connected with his record while a member of Congress in 1847-49. As you are aware. the General Government supplies each Representative with stationery, usually consisting of paper, ink, envelopes, &c. It is said that in the stationery bill of Mr. Lincoln may be found the following items: Three pairs of boots.....$25 "It is the only instance on record, I believe, where boots have been regarded as stationery, and when the Government has supplied the Representatives of Congress with that desirable and highly useful ar

A man from the back country in Michigan was at Detroit and went to a bank to get specie for some notes of his he had on hand for a long time. They Ship Canal Across Cape Cod.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin thus speaks of contemplated enterprise that interests all who have mercantile transactions between this section of the Union and that :

The committee appointed by the last Legislature, to consider the subject of cutting a ship canal across Cape Cod, have already entered upon their duties. The improvement of rivers and harbors has always been a cardinal policy of Massachusetts. The idea of cutting a ship canal across Cape Cod is not of recent origin, but dates back many years. Cape Cod in winter has had as much terror to our seamen as Scylla and Charybdis to the ancients. What has been a cause of dread to them has been a constant source of annoyance and loss to our merchants at all seasons of the year. It has been the one chief argument for New York that we could not gain say. If a line of steamers were to be started, the termin us of which this side of the Atlantic was undecided upon, New York, after exhausting the catalogue of her own advantages, always heightened the picture by giving prominence to that crooked elbow of Massachusetts, which reached out to intercept the commerce of Boston. With the rivalry which exists between the two cities for the Southern trade, Cape Cod has been a prolific theme upon which New York has never failed to riug the changes. From any point south of New York, the shipmaster makes this a consideration when he engages his freight. But those evils are slight in comparison with the actual loss by shipwreck, or the loss by detention of cargoes, which the footings of the passt thirty years show; and it is in this view that the importance of a remedy becomes more palpable. There are, of course, no data from which to arrive at the actual amount in dollars and cents, but the sum total would be frightful, if arraigned in columns of 1 igures. Beside the actual loss of property, the an wyance by detention of cargoes within twelve hours' sail of their port of destination, is a sufficient reason for enlistng the most active exertions of our mer chants to secure the completion of so desirable an undertaking With a market so near as New York, and both engaged extensively in the foreign trade, a detention of this aind amounts almost to an embargo on the commerce of Boston. Two vessels may start from a port in the Mediterranean Pladen with fruit -the one or New York, the other to Boston; up to the time of making Cape Cod, the Boston bound vessel, if anything has the advantage; a slant in the wind, however off the Cape compels the one to put into Hol mes' Hole, while the other goes without difficulty to New York. We might extend these illustrations, but the experience of Boston merchants is sufficient to se cure their hearty co-operation in the work.

Gov. Ellis' Devotion to the Railroad Interests

We of the West are told that Gov. Ellis is more than all others the especial friend of Railroads. Now let us see how this is. He has never shown any devotion to any Railroad but the North Carolina Railroad and its extensions East and West. In fact he did all in his power against the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Road and has never done anything for the single Road proposed or in progress except the above mentioned. There is a very good reason for his friendship to that Road. He and his brother had a contract on the North Carolina Road. His brother had a contract on the Western Extension, and it may be he was interested. He invested reach. If persons of this section having lands to the money made by his Railroad contracts in lots on Beaufort Harbor-the termination of the Eastern Extension. His bosom friend Chas. Fisher has now a contract of over half a million on the Western Extension-by which it is well known he will clear a handsome sum of money—and it is rumored that the Governor is not entirely disinterested in this

Now we give Gov. Ellis all credit for being a great, a very great triend of Internal Improvements-as far as the N. C. Railroad and its branches are concerned-and who would not be, any man is a friend when it is absolutely his interest to be so. Of course he is a friend to the Western Extension when there is a chance for him to make a nice thing out of a contract or two. Of course he is a friend to the Eastern Extension when his surplus funds are invested in a sand bar-on which, if the Railroad does not make a town, that much of his all (Gov. Ellis appeals to the people that he is a poor man! will be lost. Of course he is a friend to the North Carolina Railroad when nearly every official on that Road must be a friend of his or lose their places .-Such a powerful influence as the employees of a Railroad 220 miles long is not to be lost on election day .- Western Advocate.

THE LATE POSTMASTER. - The New York Express Mr Fowler left this city on the 18th, in the Moses

Taylor, for Havannah, whence doubtless, he will go to Mexico, or somewhere in South America, to escape United States treatise for the surrender of criminals, and to try to recover his fallen fortunes. How, from the day of the anouncement of his defalcation, Sunday, May 13 on the 18th-five days-he escaped the United States Marshal and his deuties, and how he got off in the Moses Taylor, are New York puzzels, which only the intiated can unravel. The officers and ship men were, doubtless, all blind, and did not see.

Mr. Fowler had many powerful friends. endeared to him by a warm and generous, if not an equitably just nature, and by many hospitalities-not always his own, it would seem, because they were the fruit of others' money. His mode of living was not beyond his salary, and its perquisites, but his liberality to others, however endearing, was certainly out of money not his own. Hence, wish such host of friends, he was kept, and well kept in secret for days, in this city, and found means at last, in a steam-tug, to join an outward bound steamer, which seems to have been expecting an illustrious guest. - All such transactions, of course, provoke comment, but we forbear.

The Japanese.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—The Japanese are keeping quiet. The reported assassination of the Tycoon. was communicated to Capt. Dupont early this morning, but having doubts as to the authenticity of the report, he has deemed it proper not to divulge it to the Prince, preferring to await instructions from Embassy, the present programme of their movements would be undoubtedly broken up. The Commissioners suppose that if the report is not entirely unfounded, it was the Regent, and not the Tycoon, who is a lad of seventeen.

The Emperor was assessinated on the 15th March. while on his way to the palace with his train. He was attacked by fourteen Japanese, dressed as travellers. Six of his retainers were killed and several wounded. One of the assassins, who was wounded, had his head cut off by his companions and carried off to prevent his being recognized. Two of the assassins were Princes of high rank, and were permitted graciously to dismember themselves to prevent beheading. Thirty of the suspected people were beheaded. Since the death of old Tycoon, an entire change has been made in the Japanese government: the present dynasty being opposed to foreign inter-course, are throwing obstacles in the way of trade and commerce. Nature, in her great laboratory, has stored some remed adapted to every disease which " flesh is heir to." But i require, the investigation and research of the phylosopher to discover and apply this remedy. Such research and investigation has succeeded in discovering a remedy for that most afflictive dispensation, the DYSPAPSIA!

With all is lesser and numerous evils; and it may be safely asserted that until the appearance of Oxygenated Bitters a case of Dyspepsia cured was a rare experience in medical practice. Now under the influence of these Bitters the rule is to CURE, the rare exception, failure to cure. Read the following, which the sugscriber requests us to publish for the benefit of the afflicted: An Obdurate and Inveterate Case of Dyspepsia Cured by the Oxyginated Bitters. FABIUS, N. Y., Nov. 24, 1859

Messrs. S. W. Fowler & Co., Boston-For seven years past I have been afflicted, most of the time severely, with Dyspeysia. It assumed the form of Billiousness, Heartburn, and Oppression after Eating, accompanied with severe pains in the stomach and constipa-tion of the bowels. I tried many popular remedies with out avail, when, about eighteen months since, having heard the Oxyginaten Bitters spoken of in high terms, I was induced to give the medicine a trial, if indeed it could be called a trial, for it required but one or two doses to give immediate relief. For weeks after I would suffer no inconvenier ce from my old enemy, when another attack would give occssion for a small dose of the Bitters; and by the use of less than one bottle, I find myself effectually cured. I recommend it to all Dyspeptics with confidence, be-lieving that if a fair trial of it is made a permanent cure

You are at liberty to use this certificate in any way which will promote the sale of your excellent remedy. Yours, truly, H. A. BUMPUS.

A GRAND VIRGINIA DISCOVERY. Some four months since our excellent townsman NAPH ALI EZEKIEL, informed us that he had prepared a hair restorer with which he was experimenting upon his own head, whose top was entirely bald. We saw him two days since, and on the place so bald four months since a fine crop of hair has sprung up with a vigorous growth. So convinced is Mr. Ezekiel of the efficacy of his discovery that he has named it "THE IFFALLIBLE VIRGINIA HAIR RESTO-RER." Mr. E. is about going into an extensive manufacture of an article which is destined to prove of anxious interest to our bald pated friends.—Richmond Enquirer Dec 12

This famous article can now be had of the principal Druggists. Those persons who desire a fine head of hair, have only to use the restorer according to printed directions on the bottle. Those who have any doubts of its efficacy can have them removed in a short time, by using the the VIRGINIA HAIR RESTORER INFALLIBLE, proving that it is all that it is claimed to be. DAVID AARON. June 4-1w DYSPEPSIA.-WILSON'S PILLS possess singular efficiency in Dyspepsia, and kindred diseases. Originally used by the Doctor in his private practice, they have since attained celebrity, having received the sanction of many shining lights in the medical world, and the unqualified approval of eminent statesmen, and hosts of private citizens who have used them. Peculiar in their Tonic action, they exert no hurtful chemical influence on the stomach, while they prevent the elumination of gases, and neutralize acidity.

HAIR.—Bald headed men are entitled to respect The bears who devoured the boys who told the aged man o "go up old bald head" did quite right, and rosolutions commendatory of their conduct should have been passed and "published in all the daily papers." What hair-made white by age-is honorable. Our grandfather wrote it, we remember, and he was a considerably better man than any of his grandsons. Iron grey hair is likewise respectable. It is seen upon the heads of thoughtful, stern men-men with a purpose, a mission and nerve. Do we respect the memory of the lamunted Uncle Edward any less because he had no wool upon the top of his head? We fearlessly answer, Nary.
"We are growing old together!"

But then when the people can protect their hair from th tell-tale marks of age; when they can luxuriate in glossy black loeks at an advanced period of their lives; when white and grey hair can be turned to a beautiful black or auburn in a twinkle; when hair can be made to grow on bald heads; when all this can be done it can't do any harm to tell what will do it. Persons long affleted who have vainly tried many expedients to eradicate a disease, are but too apt to give way to despondency, and relinquish all hope of cure. Even when a remedy that has cured thousands is placed within their reach, they exclaim, Oh! it is of no use, nothing will cure me. This is folly, a wilful sacrifice of health, ous and eruptive diseases, arising chiefly from the di-figur ing and often repulsive features of these maladies. 14th those who are thus affected arouse from their leth rgy and resort to Sand's Sarsaparilla, they will then experience in
