ORDER EXERCISES OF TODAY.

Every arrangement necessary to the proper carrying out of the programme had been successfully made out. At 11 o'clock the procession formed at the intersection of Cabarrus and Fayetteville streets and marched up Fayetteville street to Morgan, east on Morgan to Wilmington, north to Edenton, thence west to Salisbury and south to the Site of the monument. The following order was strictly observed:

- Platoon of Police.
 - Chief Marshal and Staff.
 - Band.
 - A. and M. College Cadets.
 - State Guard.
 - Governor, Orators, Chaplain, and Committee of Arrangements.
 - Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, Veterans Confederate States Army.
 - Ladies Monumental Society.
 - Military Schools.
 - Distinguished Persons.
 - State Officers.
 - Civil Societies.
 - Schools.
 - Fire Department.
- Visitors, citizens and public at large. Along the route, the streets were lined with people and all seemed impressed with the deep solemnity of the occasion.

Arriving at the site of the monument at the west gate of the Capitol Square, the following order of exercises were carried out:

1. Called to order and welcome by Gov. Elias Carr.
2. "Old North State," by one hundred voices.
3. Organization of Monumental Association, by Walter Grimes, Esq.
4. Invocation, by Rev. James A. Weston.
5. "Let us Cross Over the River, and Rest Under the Shade of the Trees," by Choir.
6. The Oration, Hon. Thomas W. Mason.
7. Announcement of contents of Corner-stone, by W. C. Stronach, Esq., Chief Marshal.
- Ceremonies incident to laying Corner-stone, by Soldiers' Home and other Confederate Veterans.
- Tribute to Unknown Dead, by Col. S. McD. Tate.
- Prayer by the Chaplain.
- Hymn by the Choir—"How Firm a Foundation Ye Saints of the Lord."
8. Corner-stone declared set, and remarks by Judge R. T. Bennett.
9. "Dixie," by the Band.

First and latest issues of the DAILY PRESS.

Journals of the Convention of 1861, that passed the ordinance of Secession, deposited by Col. W. R. Richardson.

THE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

It is almost impossible, on an occasion like the present, to estimate with anything akin to strict accuracy, the number of people present. Last night and this morning the incoming trains from all directions brought a great many strangers to the city and our streets present a rare scene of animation. In addition to these, the surrounding country was well represented by people in various kinds of conveyances, horseback, etc. Outside of our citizens; it may be estimated that from four to five thousand persons were present.

ORATORS OF THE DAY.

The orator of the day Hon. Thos. W. Mason, delivered an address which for beauty, pathos, historical reference and genuine oratory has rarely if ever, been surpassed on a similar occasion in North Carolina.

The tribute to the unknown dead by Col. S. D. McTate, was elegant in conception and beautiful in expression. It caused the most profound feeling of reverence for our lamented dead. Col. R. T. Bennett's remarks were timely and appropriate.

THE MILITARY.

The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry arrived this morning.

A organization in the State.

As a Souvenir they were presented with a silk badge bearing the following description:

The Old North State Forever. Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry Company. Bethel, 1862.

Raleigh, May 22nd, 1894.

Other companis of the State guard are present.

The Granville grays in line numbering about 50 men.

The F. L. Infantry numbered 88 men including bands.

The Durham L. Infantry is here in considerable force.

The Greenville, Pitt Co., Company are here. The visiting military consisted of these four companies.

REMARKS, SCENES, INCIDENTS, ETC.

One of the reminiscences of the occasion is the display of the flag of the 6th N. C. Regiment which did such gallant fighting at Gettysburg. The flag was saved at Appomattox by Col. S. Mc. D. Tate, who, to-day, presented it to the State of North Carolina.

The decorations of the speakers' platform and other arrangements are of the most tasteful design and reflects much credit upon the ladies and others who prepared them.

NOTES AND INCIDENTS.

The visiting companies were met at the depot by the gallant Governors Guards and well taken care of.

The battle worn flag of the 48th North Carolina Regiment, was brought to the city by Col. E. D. Hill who was its colonel. It was displayed this morning in front of the Court House and attracted great attention.

The Wake county confederate association was headed by Col. Hall, with the scarred flag of the gallant 48th Regiment.

Many business and other houses are decorated with confederate flags and bunting.

The opening address of Mr. Walter Grimes was highly applauded. Col. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, occupied a seat on the platform today.

The "Old North State Forever" was rendered in splendid style and drew forth much applause.

The cadets of the A. & M. College numbered 100 and presented a handsome, soldierly appearance. They are well drilled.
